Biography
Bill Gallo, 1922 – 2011, was a cartoonist and newspaper columnist for the New York Daily News. When Gallo graduated from high school in 1941, he landed a copy boy job on the Daily News. He worked there for seven months until he was called to serve in World War II. He returned to the Daily News after the war. In 1960, Gallo was transferred to the Sports Department of the newspaper, where he began doing sports cartoons following the death of cartoonist Leo O’Melia.
