Pizotyline is a stimulant that acts as an antagonist at 5-HT2C receptors and as a partial agonist at 5-HT1A receptors. Pizotyline is clinically used to treat migraines, but also inhibits drug-induced lever press responding in drug discrimination models.

References

Caution: This product is intended for laboratory and research use only. It is not for human or drug use.