BI-6727 is a polo-like kinase 1 (PLK1) inhibitor that exhibits anticancer activity. In vitro, BI-6727 induces apoptosis in acute myelogenous leukemia (AML) cells. This compound is currently in clinical trials as a potential treatment for several cancers; it improves response and survival rates.

References

Caution: This product is intended for laboratory and research use only. It is not for human or drug use.