Myelin basic protein (87-99) is an immunodominant peptide epitope observed in multiple sclerosis; it may be used to induce immune tolerance and downregulate T cell reactivity to myelin.

References

Caution: This product is intended for laboratory and research use only. It is not for human or drug use.