Y-320 is a phenylpyrazoleanilide that inhibits IL-17 production by CD4+ T cells, preventing the development and progression of arthritis in animal models. This compound displays immunomodulatory and anti-inflammatory activities.

References

Caution: This product is intended for laboratory and research use only. It is not for human or drug use.