Four Seasons Preferred Partner for Honeymoons and Anniversary Trips

How Stars Desk Unlocks Four Seasons Preferred Partner Perks for You

What Is Stars Desk?

Who Stars Desk Is

Stars Desk is a luxury travel advisor that serves as a Four Seasons Preferred Partner, acting as the invitation-only intermediary that books clients into the program so their reservations are recognized by Four Seasons as Preferred Partner bookings.

How It Unlocks Preferred Partner Perks

When Stars Desk books a stay, the reservation is flagged in the Four Seasons system and triggers exclusive amenities—such as enhanced recognition, personalized welcome amenities, VIP attention, priority upgrades, flexible check-in/out, and at select properties property credits or daily breakfast—without changing the rate the guest pays; Four Seasons pays a standard commission to the advisor.

2. Istanbul
3. honeymoon travel

To put it short, booking Four Seasons through Stars Desk delivers elevated benefits at no extra cost to the traveler.

Overview of Four Seasons Preferred Partner Program

Invitation-only access

An exclusive, invitation-only network of luxury travel advisors — including Stars Desk — is authorized to book clients into Four Seasons properties with Preferred Partner status.

How bookings are flagged

Reservations made through a Preferred Partner are flagged in the Four Seasons system so hotels automatically apply a defined set of partner amenities on top of the public rate.

Core amenities and perks

Four Seasons Hotel Los Angeles at Beverly Hills

1. Four Seasons Resort The Biltmore Santa Barbara

Standard perks include recognized VIP status, personalized welcome amenities, enhanced experiences, and flexible check-in/out; select properties may add daily breakfast, room upgrade priority, or $100–$200 property credits.

No extra cost, advisor commission

Clients pay the same rate they would on FourSeasons.com; Four Seasons compensates the advisor with a standard commission, so the added benefits come at no extra cost to the guest.

Priority and value

Preferred Partner benefits typically surpass those from other third‑party collections and receive upgrade priority; To put it short, booking through Stars Desk unlocks stronger amenities and higher priority at Four Seasons hotels and resorts.

How Stars Desk Partners with Four Seasons

Direct partnership and booking mechanics

Stars Desk holds Preferred Partner status with Four Seasons, so when clients book any Four Seasons property through Stars Desk their reservations are flagged in the Four Seasons system and automatically trigger the program's amenities without changing the published rate; Four Seasons pays Stars Desk a standard commission and clients pay nothing extra.

Four Seasons Resort Koh Samui Thailand

1. Four Seasons Hotel Toronto
2. Manhattan
3. Four Seasons Hotel Sydney

These Preferred Partner reservations can also stack with promotional rates and offers—Advance Purchase discounts, Experience More credits, and similar promotions—while still delivering the advisor-added amenities.

Enhanced guest perks and upgrade priority

Because Stars Desk is one of a limited group of invited advisors, its bookings receive hotel recognition, VIP attention, personalized welcome amenities, flexible check-in/out and access to select enhanced benefits like property credits, daily breakfast for two, and room upgrade priority—benefits Four Seasons prioritizes over other third-party programs.

Four Seasons Resort Koh Samui Thailand

1. Bali
2. Paris

To put it short, booking through Stars Desk unlocks stronger Four Seasons perks and upgrade consideration at no extra cost to the guest.

Core Preferred Partner Perks Explained

How bookings qualify

Four Seasons Preferred Partner is invitation-only and activated when you book a Four Seasons property through an approved advisor like Stars Desk; the reservation is flagged in Four Seasons' system so the benefits apply automatically, clients pay the same public rate and the advisor receives a standard commission.

Included amenities

Preferred Partner status triggers a defined set of perks on top of the booked rate—special recognition, VIP attention, personalized welcome amenities, flexible check-in/check-out and enhanced experiences—with some properties offering additional extras such as $100–$200 property credits, daily breakfast for two, and room upgrade priority.

Why it matters

Preferred Partner perks stack with Four Seasons promotions (Advance Purchase, Experience More, Stay Longer, Suite Retreat) and are prioritized over competing third‑party programs for upgrades and attention; In effect this means booking through Stars Desk delivers stronger, no‑cost enhancements and better upgrade odds than most other channels.

Booking Steps Through Stars Desk

Initial contact and travel brief

You share travel dates, party size and preferences with Stars Desk; the advisor evaluates suitable Four Seasons properties and rate options (including Advance Purchase, Experience More or Stay Longer offers) to identify combinations that preserve Preferred Partner amenities.

Booking, Preferred Partner flag and confirmation

Stars Desk places the reservation through Four Seasons' Preferred Partner channel so the booking is flagged in the hotel system and the defined amenities (welcome recognition, potential property credits, breakfast, upgrade priority, flexible check‑in/out) are attached without changing the rate you pay; Four Seasons retains responsibility for commission to the advisor.

Pre-arrival, stay and follow-up

Before arrival Stars Desk coordinates special requests and confirms amenity delivery, liaises with the hotel during your stay to pursue upgrades or VIP attention, and handles any post‑stay adjustments or future arrangements.

While the hotel is located a bit away from the main Midtown bustle, we found the location ideal as there is so much to explore in the immediate area. The view from our room was also incredibly pleasant, offering a great perspective of the city. We were able to visit the World Trade Center and its incredibly moving and informative museum, as well as Mercer Labs. We also took a trip to the Statue of Liberty via Battery Park, which is just a short distance away, and of course, walked through Wall Street to see the Charging Bull. For shopping and dining, the neighborhood has some great spots. We particularly enjoyed Eataly, where you can buy authentic Italian products or enjoy a delicious lunch on-site. The hotel amenities are top-notch. The indoor pool is impressive, and having steam rooms located directly in the changing rooms was a real treat, perfect for relaxing after a cold, busy day of sightseeing. A special mention goes to Assiya, who took wonderful care of us from A to Z. Her attention to detail made our stay even more memorable. Another beautiful experience with Four Seasons. We will be back!

We had an excellent experience at the four seasons. We traveled for a special occasion and everyone on staff was so friendly and accommodating. The room was incredibly comfortable and clean. Everything was perfect. We will definitely be returning.

Effortless Hospitality During the Holiday Rush Hospitality can be demanding at the best of times, but during the holidays, it is especially challenging. Despite the seasonal rush, the entire staff at the Four Seasons Hotel New York Downtown made excellence look effortless. From the moment we arrived, we were met with a warm, inviting atmosphere and a genuine eagerness to please. Personalized service from start to finish! The experience began with Duran, the lead doorman, who handled our car and luggage with ease, whisking us inside to a delightful check-in. The reception team was incredibly personable—even noticing and complimenting my husband's obscure basketball team cap—and surprised us with a complimentary upgrade from a Liberty Suite to an Oculus Suite. Vash from guest relations further elevated our stay by ensuring both our "two-legged kiddos" and our "four-legged kiddo" were spoiled with treats delivered right to the room. Going above and beyond as the level of service here is truly proactive. One evening, after several Ubers canceled on us, a doorman noticed our frustration. Upon hearing we were headed to Little Italy, he immediately offered to drive us the ten minutes himself in the house car. It turned a stressful moment into a highlight of our trip. The location is fantastic—situated away from the midtown "craziness" but still close to major attractions and easy subway access. While I didn't make it to the spa, we loved the massive pool. Our suite was spacious and comfortable, featuring a primary bathroom that was downright cavernous. Some critics mention the decor is "muted," but we found the understated palette to be incredibly elegant. A Note for Pet Owners For those traveling with dogs: housekeeping will not enter the room while a pet is unattended (for liability reasons). However, the staff made this seamless. I simply alerted the front desk when we returned, and a lovely housekeeper would arrive within minutes to work her magic while I took the dog for a walk. I've read a few negative reviews, but after our stay, I find them completely unfounded. The price point at a Four Seasons is significant, but the rewards are equally so. To have a poor experience here says more about the guest than the hotel. Well done, Four Seasons Downtown!

Just returned home. Our stay at the Four Seasons overall was 5 stars. Very accommodating in checking us in earlier than 3pm. And granting our request for late checkout as our transportation plans were delayed. We love the new tech way of communicating. Advance text message a few days prior to check in. And the ongoing communication on text platform assures effective communication without stress. Also use of the tablet in the room is an additional bonus for communicating. Hopefully, Four Seasons will consider the perks the company use to offer for the "cost" per room. The house car in my opinion is truly the luxury feel or the cherry on top that sets a luxury hotel apart compared to others . Not sure if FS can pitch a tier plan to offer to their guests . Room service is extremely pricey at least $10-$12 more than the norm although good quality food.. The Spa prices are a bit pricey. We had to opt for spa services off property because it was a little too pricey for a massage. The rooms are spotless, the soaking tub is amazing!!!! If FS would consider medium firm Foam Mattresses for the future, makes the body feel better. Overall our stay was pleasant and we thank you for our anniversary amenity

I've been to many four seasons including Boston, Seattle, Dallas & Houston locations and absolutely love this one. Have stayed here a few times and can't wait to come back. Can always count on the rooms being clean, water available and staff willing to help. Great place to stay when I'm there for work and it's close to my favorite deli, Katz.

This is unequivocally the finest establishment I have ever had the pleasure of experiencing. Any request is promptly fulfilled, and any dissatisfaction is immediately addressed. Every member of the staff, from the doorman to the concierge, front desk, kitchen staff, and janitorial services, provides exceptional personalized attention, making each guest feel uniquely valued. I can confidently state that all your needs will be met.

I stayed at Four Seasons and spent a lot of time in the room, so most of my impressions are from the in-room experience. The space is designed with a clean, modern look and feels genuinely comfortable to settle into. The bed, lighting and layout are all put together in a way that makes the room feel calm without being dull. The bathroom stood out the most for me. The size, the mirrors, and the overall finish give it a very polished feel. Small details like the water pressure, the towels and the amenities were handled well, which is something I always notice. The housekeeping team deserves credit. They were consistent every day, and even the way the room was reset after I stepped out showed real attention to detail. I also appreciated the view from the room, especially in the evening when the city lights start to come in. It adds a bit of character to the stay. Overall, the room offered a comfortable and smooth experience. If you like staying in a space that is quiet, well-designed and easy to unwind in, this property does a solid job.

On Saturday, 12/13/25, we stopped in the Four Seasons Hotel lobby with a question. The staff treated us like we were their most important guests even though we just needed a question answered! Joel went above and beyond to help us, converse with us and make us feel special. He even let us take pictures in front of the exquisite tree! Joel is an amazing and genuine human! I can only imagine how wonderful the service is for patrons of the hotel if our short interaction made such an impact on me. The other staff members were very kind and professional as well, but we did not get their names.

Absolutely disgraceful. I came in months ago but I was only taught how to leave reviews so I am reviewing all of my previous hotels I have visited. The second day I had come in, I went to go straight to my room but was stopped by a young man, about early 30's, and to get this review over and done with-- he accused me of trying to sleep in a room without paying for it which is understandable, until he had mentioned that I didn't look like I could afford it.

This was my first experience working with Stars Desk, but it will not be my last. They were extremely friendly, transparent and responsive in securing a multi-room, multi-family booking through Hyatt Privé for the Hyatt Regency Maui Resort. Aryien worked directly with the property manager to get connecting rooms, with upgraded views for the two families with children and a beautiful corner room for the grandparents. This was on top of free breakfast at Swan Court for our entire group as well as a $100 credit per room. Communication was easy and professional, but also felt friendly and low pressure. Highly recommend to anyone considering using Hyatt Privé (which you definitely should because the benefits are phenomenal).
