

Los Angeles. When wildfires exploded across the Los Angeles area in January, Foursquare chaplains were on the front lines, bringing help and hope. One of them was Foursquare's own Victor Laveaga, with his faithful therapy dog, Jack, who were featured on Good Morning America. Read the full story.

Chaplains

- 357: Foursquare endorsed chaplains serving in 409 missional locations
 - Includes military, institutional/industrial, and disaster relief.
- 122: Women chaplains (representative of 34% of overall chaplaincy)

Partnership developed with Life Pacific University to develop an online Certificate in Chaplaincy course, which helps to serve as a pipeline for endorsing Foursquare Chaplains.

- 176: students currently enrolled in the program.
- 184: people who are in the process of endorsement for chaplaincy

Regional Training Events to better equip our chaplains (3 held across the U.S.)

- Portland, Ore.: 53 leaders attended the training
- Wichita, Kan.: 42 leaders attended the training
- National Harbor, Md.: 68 attended the training