Guided holidays vietnam

It is a very safe, friendly country and locals enjoy visits from foreigners on Vietnam tour packages. The main religion here is Buddhism. Festivals play a big role in Vietnamese life ranging from family gatherings to national celebrations. It is also a very diverse destination. The major cities of Hanoi, Hue and Ho Chi Minh City (formerly Saigon) all have their own unique character. Breathtaking landscapes can be found everywhere from beautiful Halong Bay to the lush Mekong Delta. Vietnam has several beach resorts that are second to none. History abounds with the ancient Cham civilization right up to the fairly recent Vietnam War. All this and more will certainly attract curious and discerning visitors. What are the best cities to visit in Vietnam? Hanoi The best starting point is Hanoi, the country's capital, known for its century-old architecture and a rich culture with Southeast Asian, Chinese and French influences. The latter influence is responsible for the city's sweeping wide boulevards and the popularity of coffee and croissants. Tree-lined lakes, ancient pagodas and picturesque old quarters add to Hanoi's charm. The Ho Chi Minh Mausoleum is a very special place for the Vietnamese. This is located in a complex that also houses his former home, the Presidential Palace and the Ho Chi Minh Museum. In the centre of Hanoi, a delightful island is located in the middle of Lake Hoan Kiem. Here you will find Hanoi's most visited temple sanded by a small bridge. An exciting place is the former Hoa La prison, ironically originally nicknamed the Hanoi Hilton with its exhibitions related to Vietnam's 20th-century war engagement. The Temple of Literature, founded in 1070, is an example of well-preserved traditional Vietnamese architecture and a pillar pagoda, built of wood and originally constructed in the 11th century, is designed to resemble a lotus flower. While in Hanoi, one should definitely conduct a trishaw ride and participate in a performance of a unique water puppet show on the Vietnam holiday package. More information about Hanoi Tours Ho Chi Minh City Ho Chi Minh City, formerly Saigon, is a bustling and busy metropolis and is known for its French-colonial architecture that includes Notre Dame Cathedral. At the same time, you can see both the present with designer malls and skyscrapers and the past with the alleys, markets and temples that abound everywhere. Also in Ho Chi Minh City, a must-visit to a Vietnam vacation is Cu Chi Tunnels, a network of underground tunnels where the Viet Cong hid during the Vietnam War. At one point there were 250 kilometers/155 miles of underground tunnels. The network, parts of which were several floors deep, included trapdoors, constructed living rooms, warehouses, weapons factories, field hospitals, command centers and kitchens. Learn more about Ho Minh City Travel Hue Hue was the seat of the Emperor of the Nguen Dynasty and former capital of Vietnam. Its major attractions are the 19th Century Citadel or Imperial Palace modeled after the Imperial Palace in Beijing and several interesting tombs of former emperors dotted around the city mainly located on the Perfume River. One can enjoy a nice short cruise on the river to visit many of the tombs. Not far from Hue lies the port of Hoi An with its atmospheric old town and winding, narrow streets and which also has attractive beaches to enjoy on Vietnam tour packages. Not too far from here is the archaeologically interesting ancient Cham civilization site of My Son. Learn more about Hue Travel Halong Bay Halong Bay is undoubtedly one of the most stunningly beautiful places on earth with its more than 2,000 islands rising from the bay's emerald waters. It is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and is breathtakingly beautiful, with pristine beaches, limestone caves, lakes and floating villages. It is reinforced by tall limestone playdoyers and small inserts on top of which is forest. The background rises dramatically from the emerald lake water. One of the best ways to enjoy Halong Bay on an Asian vacation is aboard a cruise ship that can last for half a day or a cruise with accommodation as long as 2 nights. You will sail by amazing caves and caves with stalactites and stalagmites. You can explore Halong Bay on a Chinese-style junk or a high-speed boat. No matter which way you see it on a Vietnam vacation, you'll marvel at the emerald waters, impressive rock formations, and the majestic beauty of Halong Bay. Tours and trips to Halong Bay Dalat in the central highlands are where you can stay in the French-established mountain resort of Dalat centered around a lake and a golf course and surrounded by hills, pine forests, lakes and waterfalls. It is known as the city of eternal spring for its distinctive temperate climate. The landscape of Dalat is very different from much of the rest of the country. The Mekong Delta located in southwestern Vietnam, the Mekong Delta is a network of distributaries emptying into the South China Sea from the Mekong River. Much of life in the Mekong Delta revolves around the river with some villages only accessible by boat. Agricultural-rich provide the Mekong Delta with lush rice fields, providing half of Vietnam's range of rice. In addition, dubbed as a biological gold mine, the Mekong Delta has over 10,000 new species discovered in previously unexplored areas, all adding to the attraction of a Vietnam vacation. The Mekong Delta's largest city, Can Tho, is the economic, cultural and scientific centre of the region and is known for its floating market, rice paper making village and picturesque rural canals. More information about travel through Mekong Delta Sapa The hill resort in Sapa 4 hours away from Hanoi. A special train will take you there on an overnight trip. It is a city that has spectacular views of the surrounding valleys and rice fields with mountains towering above on all sides. This is where you can find the colorful hill tribe of people. The excellent beaches of Vietnam While on a Vietnam vacation, there are a number of attractive and pleasant resorts to choose from. Phu Quoc Island, the largest island in the country located in the Gulf of Thailand, is famous for its idyllic beaches, stunning sunsets and tranquil atmosphere. The northern part of the island consists of a UNESCO World Heritage National Park. The south is there to find the beaches, some luxurious resorts, as well as beachfront activities. Inland you can explore traditional villages, nature parks and Buddhist pagodas. Nha Trang is located on the east coast surrounded by majestic mountains. This former fishing village is well known for its beaches and seafood. Known as the Riviera in the South China Sea, it boasts miles of uncrowded beaches, offshore islands and coral reefs. You can enjoy boat trips to the pristine little outer islands. Phan Thiet is both a fishing village and a seaside resort located in southeastern Vietnam. Visitors will be immediately struck by the hundreds of colorfully painted fishing vessels in the port. Mui Ne's long beach here has pristine white sands and is perfect for walking or enjoying spectacular sunsets. Festivals in Vietnam The most notable festival is Tet, the Vietnamese New Year that lasts for seven days and falls sometime between the last week of January and the third week of February. It is a time when families come together to celebrate renewal and hope for the coming year. The majority of other festivals take place in the spring with a second flurry happening this fall. Enjoy the cuisine of Vietnam Cuisine in Vietnam is considered quite nutritious and healthy. Rice is a staple in most meals and cooking methods include grilling, frying, boiling and steaming. The colonial past of the country is reflected in the food with the North hosting a strong Chinese influence while the Hue area is spicier and has been influenced by the French and dishes in the southern parts of Vietnam tend to be hot and spicy. Best time to visit Vietnam The best time to visit Vietnam is in spring, from February to April and autumn, August to October as temperatures are moderately lower and precipitation is lighter. Hanoi and North Vietnam have distinct winter and summer seasons. The cold but mostly dry winter lasts from November to April with the coolest months being January to March. Summer is from May to October when it is hot and humid and the area has its highest rainfall. The central coast is affected by the northeast monsoon. Nha Trang has a wet season that starts in and continues until December. Hue and Hoi An have rain from September to February. The best time to visit these places is February to May. It will be very hot from June to August. Southern Vietnam has a dry season that lasts from December to late April or even May. The rainy season is from May to November. But you're experiencing only short afternoon cleanup. The climate in the Central Highlands including Dalat has cooler temperatures, especially at night. What kind of tours are available in Vietnam You can choose between a private guided tour or take one of our predetermined classic tours that visit the highlights. Stopover packages are available, all combinable, for Hanoi, Ho Chi Minh City, Hue and Hoi An plus hill stations dalat and Sapa. Cruises can be taken in Halong Bay or the Mekong Delta. The beach resorts of Phan Tiet and Nha Trang offer additional stays to enhance your Vietnam vacation. For history buffs, there's a tour of Battlefields.
