

REFERENCES

(Used in essay “My Electrons are Spinning”)

Ref.1:

<https://www.andrewbridgen.com/>

Efficacy of the mRNA Covid-19 booster, 17 March, 2023 :

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WnFEnuAQmjQ>

List of supporting references used in vaccine harms debate speech, 16 December 2022.

“Following my speech on vaccine harms in the House of Commons earlier this week the following list contains a list of supporting scientific references. The list was proactively sent to journalists immediately after my speech:”

<https://www.andrewbridgen.com/news/list-supporting-references-used-vaccine-harms-debate-speech>

Aarstad, J.; Kvitastein, O.A. Is there a Link between the 2021 COVID-19 Vaccination Uptake in Europe and 2022 Excess All-Cause Mortality?. Preprints.org 2023, 2023020350. <https://doi.org/10.20944/preprints202302.0350.v1>.

<https://www.nrscotland.gov.uk/files//statistics/vital-events/monthly-mortality/monthly-mortality-march-23-report.pdf>

Tegmark, Max (2017). Life 3.0 : being human in the age of artificial intelligence (First ed.). New York: Knopf. ISBN 9781101946596.

Rietdijk–Putnam argument. Wikipedia article.

Penrose, Roger (1989). The Emperor's New Mind: Concerning Computers, Minds, and the Laws of Physics. Oxford University Press. pp. 303–304. ISBN 0192861980.

Einstein A. (1917), Relativity: The Special and General Theory , Springer

2001: A Space Odyssey (1968). Screenplay by Arthur C. Clarke and Stanley Kubrick, inspired by “The Sentinel” by Arthur C. Clarke.