

FRITZ HAAG

Vintagereport 2017

Dear Friends of the Estate,

It's finally time to have a look back on the year that was. Twelve thrilling months that ultimately culminated in a sublime and sophisticated 2017 vintage, one that's brimming with potential.

The 2017 growing year was rich in both surprises and challenges. For starters, the harvest began earlier than ever before. Just as significantly, yields were lower than we had seen in years.

But first: the weather. There was plenty of it over the course of the year, and not all warm and smiling. We endured a mix of early bud break, late frosts in April and then severe storms during the vegetative cycle.

Yet despite all the hurdles the year put in front of us, our good anticipation, meticulous manual labor and cautious approach ended up delivering a highly promising 2017 vintage.

We are proud to present our balanced and successful collection of Mosel Rieslings to you. The portfolio includes fresh mineral Gutswein (estate) and Ortswein (village) wines; juicy Großes Gewächs bottles and playful, naturally sweet Spätlese and Auslese; and, to our great joy, a batch of our premium-quality Beerenauslesen and Trockenbeerenauslesen. A collection with everything a wine lover could want.

We hope you'll enjoy vintage 2017...and if you wish, you can sample our new wines at the ProWein trade fair in mid-March. We're exhibiting in hall 14, stand E66.

With warmest regards from the Mosel,

Weingut Fritz Haag
