

What's The Point?
Grow more food of better quality (higher nutrition) more economically (profit) more efficiently (cost per unit of production) that by default regenerates the environment (carbon sequestration).

Dr. Arden Andersen's Question to Farmers

Farming Secrets says: Farmers have an incredibly important role to play as food producers