2.0, which is part of Simi's mixtape by BlocBoy JB. [60] The following month, he appeared on Ty Dolla Sign's Clout, which was part of the deluxe edition of his album Beach House 3. On October 31, 2018, Savage posted on his Instagram a photo of a man in silhouette jumping into the air towards the large flame. In the lower-right corner of the photo there is a parental advice message, as there is often on the cover of rap releases. 21 Savage was also tagged Metro Boomin in the post. For these reasons, some thought it would be a sequel to Without from 2017. Album. However, it turned out to be the cover of Metro's first solo album, Not All Heroes Wear Capes. On December 6, 2018, 21 Savage posted a cover for his upcoming album, I Am & I Was, on Instagram, which features a blurry photo of himself, captioning the photo with several govt emojis. The next day, 21 Savage went on Twitter and risked his Instagram to apologize for forgetting to release the album, saying on Twitter: Hell forgot to leave my album he announced a new date on December 21, 2018. The set list was leaked by producer Louis Bell via his Instagram story on December 13, 2018. [67] [68] 21 Savage released his second studio album I Am & I Was on December 21, 2018, with features from Travis Scott, Post Malone, Childish Gambino, Offset, J. Cole, Ghana, Lil Baby, Project Pat and Schoolboy Q. [69] [70] None of these performances, however, are credited as artists on the album. I Am & I Was debuted on the U.S. Billboard 200, winning 131,000 units equivalent to the album (including 18,000 pure album sales), making it Savage's first album at number one in the U.S. [71] The song was led by a lot, featuring the vocals of J. Cole. He reached number 12 on the U.S. Billboard Hot 100 and won his first Grammy. [73] By 2019, 21 Savage had released only one song called Immortal. In February 2020, 21 Savage and his longtime partner Metro Boomin hinted at the release of a sequel to his extended play Wild State called Wild State II. Although they have not announced an official release date, they have re-posted fan speculation on Instagram that the project will be released on March 13, 2020, leading to speculation that it will be the official release date. The album was not released on March 13. [75] On September 28, 2020, a teaser trailer was released for Wild Mode 2, directed by Gibson Hazard, with a voiceover from Morgan Freeman announcing the October 2 release date. A musical style called one of the last real street negroes left making music by frequent collaborator Metro Boomin. [78] Savage's music is largely autobiographical with an emphasis on violent and criminal aspects of his past, including murder and drug trafficking. [37] Vocally, he is known for his evil monotonous painting. In 2018, it was reported that Savage had set up a movement called Guns Down, paintballs upstairs designed to reduce gun violence by offering paintball guns instead of lethal weapons. Detroit Police Chief James Craig described the movement as well-intentioned, however, misguided, after several incidents involving paintball guns later resulted in injuries, disorderly behavior involving large groups of people with paintball guns, property vandalism (e.g., police vehicles), violent reprisals and mistaken paintball guns for firearms. [81] [82] Has been linked to several cases of property crime and murder. [80] [83] 21 Savage has not commented on the matter, although he paid for the funeral of a 3-year-old boy killed in a similar incident. [80] On June 10, 2018, controversy arose after 21 Savage was weapons-thrown during a pool party on June 10, 2018. [84] 21 Savage was given the weapon by a friend after seeing an opposing crew member also 911. The song ASMR, a song from Savage's second studio album I Am & I Was, sparked controversy with his lyrics. The words included we got this Jewish money, all kosher. The lyrics came under fire for perpetuating negative Jewish stereotypes when LeBron James shared a story on Instagram that quoted the song. Savage then apologized, saying on Twitter that the Jewish people I know were very smart with the money there, so I said we were getting Jewish money. I never thought anyone would be offended, I'm sorry if I hurt everyone, I never meant to - I love all people. In early 2020, a feud arose between 21 Savage and American producer Young Chop after Sshop insulted Savage 21 live on Instagram. On April 6, while Uber was reportedly taking in the neighborhood of Savage 21 in an attempt to find where he lived, Chop stated that an unknown gunman fired at his car, but he was not injured. No other source confirmed whether or not this story was true and no shots were taken in the video in which he made the accusation. [89] Personal Life 21 Savage deals with the traditional African religion Ifá along with his mother. [90] [91] In June 2017, Savage began dating model Amber Rose. [93] As of May 2018, the couple had separated. His cousin, Yang Noddy, is an American rapper who often works with 21 Savage. 2014 drug conviction lawsuit, 21 Savage was convicted in October 2014 of drug offenses in Fulton County, Georgia. Arrest on immigration charges On February 3, 2019, just two days after releasing the video for his single A Lot, 21 Savage was taken into custody by U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) after they stopped a vehicle that contained him and his cousin, Yang Noddy, and two other men. Young nudy and the other two men were targeted in an operation that included charges of aggravated assault and violation of Georgia gang law. [97] 21 Savage later claimed that he was also personally targeted in the operation. After his arrest, ICE revealed that 21 Savage is a British citizen who has been in the United States for the time since his visa expired in July 2006. 21 Savage's management team expresses that he has been trying to renew his visa since 2017. Before that, 21 Savage was generally considered a native of the Atlanta area - for example, Interview magazine reported in an interview with Rogen in April 2018, the rapper's birthplace was Atlanta, Georgia, and in a 2016 interview with XXL magazine, he said he was from Decatur, Georgia (which is in the Atlanta metropolitan area). [30] [98] [99] A spokesperson for ICE said of 21 Savage, his entire public life is false. He actually came to Arahav from the UK in a teenager and spent too much time on his visa. On 22 October 1992, a birth certificate was born showing that 21 Savage was born in Newham, London. [1] This indicates that he was 12 years old in July 2005 - not a teenager (and he was also in the U.S. from age 7 until his month-long departure in 2005). His lawyer acknowledged that 21 Savage withdrew his expired visa, but said he had not tried to hide his background, and said DHS was aware that in 2017 he had applied for a U visa - a type of non-immigrant visa offered to victims of crime and their families willing to assist law enforcement agencies in investigating or prosecuting criminal activity. [31] Savage has been released from ICE custody, however, his case is still pending. He is allowed to travel around the U.S., but cannot travel to the sand. [103] Theft by fraud charges On February 15, 2019, 21 Savage turned himself in to authorities and was booked into a South Georgia jail in response to a warrant for his arrest for fraudulent theft. That feud encompasses a performance organized in 2016 for which the rapper was allegedly paid $17,000 to perform, but did not perform and did not give back the money. He was released on self-bail, pending a court hearing at a later date to resolve the charge. [104] On March 21, 2018, savage announced the establishment of Savage's 21-account campaign (named after his hit song Bank Account) on the Ellen DeGeneres Show, he also announced that he would also pay $21,000 to the cause. 21 Savage stated I started the 21 savage bank account campaign and this is to help kids learn how to save money and her to earn money, and open bank accounts for children. In early August 2016, 2017, 2018 and 2019, Savage hosted Issa Back to School Drive (named after his album Issa) in his home neighborhood of Atlanta, Georgia. The drive gave free haircuts, hairstyles, supplies, and school uniforms. In July 2018, 21 Savage donated $10,000 to Colonial Continental Elementary School in Atlanta to fund an anti-bullying campaign. On July 1, 2020, Savage announced that he was launching a free online financial literacy education program for children and teenagers stuck at home during the COVID-19 epidemic, saying: I feel it is more important than ever to give our next generation the tools to succeed in life. The plan includes a partnership with Atlanta Mayor Keisha Lance Lower Tablets and free Wi-Fi for students didn't serve in Atlanta. In 2017, it was reported that 21 Savage was working on his debut film, Issa Film. [109] 21 Savage also worked on an animated YouTube miniseries called Year 2100.
