

Daily Prayer

January 28

Reading:

"Tell me about despair, yours, and I will tell you mine. Meanwhile the world goes on. Meanwhile the sun and the clear pebbles of the rain are moving across the landscapes Over the prairies and deep trees, the mountains and the rivers. Meanwhile the wild geese, high in the clean blue air, are heading home again. Whoever you are, no matter how lonely, the world offers itself to your imagination, Calls to you like the wild geese, harsh and exciting— Over and over, announcing your place in the family of things."

Mary Oliver

Prayer:

Holy One. Creator and Sustainer of all creation. My prayer this day is that I may find my place in this world and continue to grow into it. Even if I am a mature person, I may grow and learn that your gracious gifts are new to me every day and your purpose for my life is revealed with each experience. Set free my gifts to find peace, serve others and give abundant thanks for all I have received.

Amen
