

Time Out

New York

FIVE MUSIC STARS OF 2011
BARS FOR FOOTBALL WATCHING
THE BEST NEW SEAFOOD
MUSEUM OF THE MOVING
IMAGE REOPENS

Food & Drink

Edited by Jordana Rothman • food@timeoutny.com

Late-night grub!

Attention, night owls, barhoppers and midnight snackers: We've compiled the best after-hours eats in your favorite party 'hoods, to keep you full and happy around the clock.
By Jamie Feldmar

YOU'RE ON THE LOWER EAST SIDE, AND IT'S...

2am: The Meatball Shop

The music is always bumping, the crowd is good-looking, and the food is way better than it needs to be at this hour. Until 4am you can soak up an evening's boozing, with dishes like a spicy pork meatball and tomato-sauce "smash" on a squishy brioche bun ($8); add the "family jewels" (a fried egg) for a buck more. Most of the tiny space is taken up by a communal wooden table, where we once witnessed a girl spew her drink in her date's face, then lean over to lick it off. Ah, young love. 84 Stanton St between Allen and Orchard Sts (212-982-8895). Kitchen open until 4am on weekends.

