Colgate University Athletics subscribes to and utilizes the Schneider Electric weather service to protect our student-athletes. The following policies are listed here to provide information which may affect contests held at Colgate University as well as be a resource for any visiting teams running practices at our facilities. Visiting teams should contact Steve Chouinard should they wish to utilize the weather service for practices. Game officials are responsible for cessation of any contest. Our Sports Medicine staff will ensure that the officials are aware of our policies and the existence of the weather service so that they may make an informed decision.

LIGHTNING POLICY

Colgate Sports Medicine receives warnings regarding lightning strikes from Schneider Electric occurring within 30 miles of campus. These warnings will alert outdoor personnel of the possibility of cessation of outdoor activities. Coaches may then adjust practice sessions with this information to prioritize activities.

Should a lightning strike be recorded by Schneider Electric within 8 miles, then outdoor activities are immediately ceased and outdoor facilities evacuated.

Resumption of outdoor activities will occur only once there are no recorded lightning strikes within 8 miles for 30 minutes. The Colgate Sports Medicine staff will ensure adequate communication with all personnel.

EXTREME COLD POLICY

During times of extreme cold Colgate Athletics will strictly follow the restrictions to outside activity. DTN WeatherSentry will notify Colgate Sports Medicine when wind chills reach this pre-determined level.

The table above represents the maximum allowable time outdoors in these extreme conditions. Common sense should be encouraged at all times to promote safety. Extended breaks indoors, covering of any and all exposed skin, allowing non-participants to stay inside, and indoor warm up are all possible measures that can be utilized to ease these extreme temperatures. Any an all reports by anyone experiencing numbness, tingling, uncontrollable shivering, slurred speech or mumbling, slow, shallow breathing, a weak pulse, lack of coordination, or drowsiness must be taken seriously and reported to qualified medical personnel immediately.

Severe weather doesn’t usually occur without some warning. Visitors should coordinate with Colgate Athletics to assess possible conditions and adjust timing and locations to provide the safest possible conditions for all student-athletes.
