In this guide, we will guide you through the process of creating a profile on Airbnb and renting your first accommodation. It is really a 101 guide, and also useful for existing users. In this Airbnb review, let's start with the #1 reason you came here. 1. Airbnb coupon code that works in 2020 First and foremost, we share our discount codes with you. Come on, who doesn't like saving? Follow this recommendation link and you're getting to the promotional code. Very simple. The code can only be applied if: sign up. But that doesn't mean Airbnb actually gives you money or cash. This code is actually good to book your nearest airbnb place where you can stay. You will receive a €35 discount on a home booking of €65 or more on Airbnb. And you get 9 € discount on an experience of 43 € or more. As you can see, you need a valid booking to claim the credit. Prima Prima How can I actually claim your Airbnb coupon code? First, you need to follow our recommendation code here. The links open Airbnb.com in a new window and you will read the following message: Hostelgeeks gave you up to 35€ for your first trip With unique houses and experiences, Airbnb is a great way to travel. When you sign up, you will receive a 35€ discount on a home booking of 65€ or more and 9€ for an experience of 43€ or more. Coupons expire one year from the date of registration. The terms apply You can claim the promo code by signing up to Airbnb. This is super easy! You can sign in via: Facebook Google Email Email (Google, Hotmail or others) Sign in and confirm your email address with the confirmation email. Pretty standard procedure. Then, with your first booking, your discount will be applied. (See our section to see how to prepare for your first Airbnb stay) Make sure you check the price before confirming your booking in the final step. To receive the discount, you will need a qualifying reservation. That's what Airbnb officially calls it. This means that a qualifying reservation must have the minimum total value specified in the referral invitation, accompanying promotional materials, the Airbnb website, or the Airbnb mobile application for that type of reservation. Note that this total may change based on currency fluctuations. The Eligible Reservation must be booked and paid for through the Airbnb platform, and the referred friend must complete the stay or experience before the referring member can receive travel credits. Uff, complicated. Simply put, you will need a reservation of more than €65 to get our €35 discount. Important to note: A reservation is not considered a qualifying reservation, and therefore no travel credits will be collected if the referring member is the host or if the reservation is cancelled at any time. Common question: My coupon code isn't really 35€?! The value of our coupon may change at any time. This is due to Airbnb itself and your own currency and location. So our code is in EUROS, it can show you in US dollars or Great British Pounds. There is really no difference. It doesn't matter if you're looking for an Airbnb coupon UK or Airbnb promo code Singapore, this link will get you your discount discount. Another frequently asked question: Does your Airbnb travel credit not appear? This may be due to the fact that the credit is automatically applied to your booking of your first stay. Remember receive only the credit for your first stay, not your second. Update: Alternatives to Airbnb Due to some development in the tourism industry, here's an update. Airbnb is great, but it certainly has its problems. In fact, there were some incredible horror stories about it. In addition, Airbnb is said to have persuaded many municipalities and cities to go up in their rental properties. Read this article about what really does to a neighborhood and via Airbnb in Barcelona. So are there alternatives to Airbnb? Yes, check out the following websites: These alternatives and Airbnb competitors may be more legal. Couchsurfing is more of a free way to stay with other travelers. Home Away and Vrbo are rental platforms for houses and villas. 2. Do you use Airbnb Discount with an existing profile? Do you already have a profile on Airbnb and want to claim the code? Well, we have bad news: you can't. This message will pop up when you try: Looks like you already have an account These coupons are only for those who are new to Airbnb. You can still earn credit by inviting people you know to join in. A frequently asked question: Can I create a new profile to get the discount? Well, no. If your phone number is already linked/connected to an existing account, you won't be able to use the Airbnb voucher. Just this in the back of your mind! The same applies to your email address and the way you verified your account. 3. Create your Airbnb profile This is a fairly standard procedure. As mentioned earlier, you need to use your Facebook account, Google email or any email to start. You must confirm that you agree to the Community Commitment and Terms of Use. If you sign in by email, you will receive a confirmation email. Just click on the confirmation link and you are in. So far, easy. Now let's start adding some content and information to your profile. After all, no one on the network wants to host a complete stranger without a photo. Add a profile photo that actually shows you in good quality. Although this is optional and can be completed later, don't forget this step. It is crucial. You can also assign your phone number to your Airbnb account. This is super useful as you can get SMS and booking confirmations here. After that, you will need to check your account. You must provide an identification before you book, so you get a head start by doing it directly. You can check your email, phone and even passport. Some hosts require that their guests be verified with their actual identity card or passport. Fair enough, let's say. All you need to do is scan your passport and upload it to your profile. They are then verified. More information on verification can be found here. 4. How do I find your accommodation on Airbnb? Obviously you already know this, the platform is a great way to find unique and cool accommodations. In fact, Airbnb has how people are looking for accommodation. It was almost a paradigm shift. Due to the increase in private accommodation and the possibility of staying in a local house, hotels have lost quite a lot of business. Hotels and other professional companies had to adapt and were forced to become more creative again and offer more than just a private room to sleep in. How do you find your accommodation on Airbnb? You can now do three meta searches: Home Experiences Home Experiences Select Homes and start Airbnb here or start it. You can filter immediately. The most important is actually the main search field: your desired goal! In this example, we want to travel to Bali. Cool, right? As you can see in the screenshot, you can now filter for: Guests Adult children (aged 2-12 years) Toddlers (under 2 years) Home Type Whole Place – have a place for yourself private room – have your own room and share common rooms Hotel Rooms - Have a private or shared room in a boutique hotel, hotel and more common rooms – Stay in a common place , like a common area price slide and chose the price range for your budget – Airbnb also gives you the information of The average night price is xx€ (super helpful!) Instant Book Select only deals you can book without waiting for the host's permission Trip Type For Families (Explore entire houses with 5-star reviews of families and essentials such as kitchen and TV) For Work (Discover top-rated homes with essential amenities such as a workplace, WiFi and self-check-in) More filters (super helpful additional filters) rooms and bed types amenities such as kitchen , air conditioning, washing machine etc facilities such as swimming pool or gym property type – from boutique hotel to cottage unique homes – from houseboat to white island house rules – events allowed, pets such as cats and dogs allowed, smoking also allowed neighborhoods (depending on the region you are looking for) host language – very useful for communication Especially under more filters you should go and get creative. Play around, filter for a pool AND houseboat; You might be lucky. Okay, not in Bali exactly. Bali is known for amazing jungle houses, bungalows, villas, even resorts. Especially if you are looking for a luxurious stay in beautiful Ubud with infinity pool, Airbnb will make you pretty happy. Read: 3 Best Hostels in Ubud, Bali Compared Filter Airbnbs for Bali – Here It Will Be Interesting What Can You Do After You Find Your Home? There are two ways: the host allows immediate booking You need to send a request to the host The host allows immediate booking If the host allows the immediate booking, it works quite straightforwardly. You choose your travel dates, your room and confirm your booking. BOOM, you're in it! The host usually will contact you and send you an email on how to get there and other details. You need to send a request to the host now, what should you do if the host does not offer an instant booking? You send a booking request. The post request contains the data that you have previously added. You'll see how much the room would be. You can also add a message to the host, which we highly recommend. This gives your request a personal touch. Here's a template you can use when you want to book on Airbnb. Try adding your own honest notes and intentions city/area. The host may even know some secret places you haven't even heard of. Hello (name of the host), My name is Sarah, and together with my friend Jimmy we travel to Bali. We come from Ireland and are currently on annual holidays exploring Southeast Asia, including your wonderful Bali. I found your listing here on Airbnb, and it looks so beautiful. We would be happy to stay with you. Our plan for Ubud would be to explore the rice fields, kayak and try out the many restaurants. Maybe you have some great tips that we haven't even heard of. That would be wonderful. Is your room available for our dates? We would be happy to stay with you. Best regards from XYZ, Sarah The host then has 24 hours to refuse or accept your request. Good to know: You can also contact the host without sending a request. This can be super helpful if you have questions before you want to commit to a booking. Look for the Contact Host button. The host can then reply to you and send you an offer that you can accept. 5. Offers of accommodation on Airbnb The website delivers super nice accommodations from the beginning. It's easy to get lost, scroll on, travel even more inspired. Seriously, Airbnb played a role when we started developing our own website. (Open Airbnb here). Anyway, it's a good thing that you can create a wish list on Airbnb as you'll tag many accommodations; from glamping to vans and lodges. Here is a list of all types on Airbnb: Haus Apartment Bed and Breakfast Boutique Hotel Bungalow Chalet Cottage Guest Guesthouse Guesthouse Hostel Hotel Loft Townhouse Villa Under Unique Homes you can also filter for the following: Barn Boat Camper/RV Casa particular Cave Dome Earth house Farm stay Houseboat Nature lodge Tent Tiny house Yurt The unique house filter is the one that makes the platform stand out. You can seriously stay in a cave, rent a camper, even a yurt. You may have already noticed this. Have you seen in the above offers that you can also find hostels on Airbnb? In fact, many professional accommodations such as resorts, hotels, guesthouses can be listed on Airbnb. The great thing is that you can filter by property type. Let's mention this again to make it clear that not all Airbnb listings are privately owned. Good to know: We even know hostels that can only be found on this platform. No Booking.com or Hostelworld. It's fair to say Airbnb platform is not the best site to find hostels. Not at all. It is natural their core business. Better stop by and read our best hostels-in-guides to actually find only hostel-type accommodation. 6. Airbnb first stay - How does it work? We did a lot of airbnbs! And we have experienced many different accommodations, got to know different types of hosts, etc. When we entered our first Airbnb stay, we rented in an apartment. We met the super-friendly host, and I actually wanted to pay in cash. The guy told me that the payment is made via Airbnb, no need to pay here. Look, I didn't even pay attention to this important detail. So, here we go. Airbnb also has a kind of policy on how to enjoy your first Airbnb stay. 1. Search and use the smart filters we already covered on how to find accommodation on Airbnb. 2. Read the reviews & reviews faked reviews are pretty unlikely. There is not really a point about fake reviews and listings, as the community will quickly filter out the black sheep. Obviously, you pay extra attention with new deals without reviews. 3. Get your questions answered if you have doubts, always ask. You can always send a private message to the host with the doubts you might have, and most of them respond pretty quickly. 4. Always communicate & pay on Airbnb (remember my own story above...) 5. Make a security check and say hello to the host Take a look at your room and see if everything is okay and safe. Be sure to say hello to the host and chat a little. This is always helpful. That's what we always do. It's quite easy to connect and sometimes the host is even interested in having a drink or dinner later that happened to us very much. Especially the private offers are usually not anonymous places where you just sleep. Read our Airbnb story here. 6. Let the host know if something is wrong Is something not working, something is missing? Maybe the host forgot the towel in your room? Please talk to your host and fix the problem immediately. No need to get grumpy and then leave a bad review afterwards. It is better for everyone if you only point out the little things. 7. Airbnb Coupon Code First Booking The first booking you want to add the discount. The discount is granted automatically – as long as you make a booking of 65€ or more. When you get to the payment page, there is a small box with the question Apply Discount Code. If you have a referral credit, it is applied automatically. However, you can check the box to NOT apply the discount. Why would you do that? You may want to save it. Maybe you book accommodation with friends and want the credit only for your own stays. Who knows, point, you can turn the field on and off. Pretty useful sometimes! You see, it's easy to claim your Airbnb loan. 7. Airbnb payment - is it safe? Airbnb is a very secure platform. We never had a single problem or problem. And we're talking about several security concerns. Airbnb, for example, does not allow discrimination. They make this very clear. There have been incidents where hosts have publicly indicated that they do not allow gay couples to stay here. This violates Airbnb rules and you can report them. This host will be removed directly from the platform. Then Airbnb also has an emergency check if something happens to the apartment Rent. There has been an incident at an apartment in the US. It was rented to a couple. A few hours later, the hosts returned to bring something back to the apartment. As it turned out, the people who rented the apartment were planning a sex party. This was contrary to the rules of the host. Airbnb immediately took care of the incident. Airbnb is also secure in terms of payment. We like that they take away the money limit between guest and host. You can arrive at a place, say hello, chat, relax – and the payment is made online without exchanging money in cash. This also removes all currency problems and the like. Did you know that Airbnb gives its hosts a free smoke and carbon monoxide detector (CO)? Hosts with an active list can receive a closed, battery-powered combination smoke and carbon monoxide detector free of charge. Read all safety and community standards here. 8. Pros and cons of Airbnb All that shines is not gold. Airbnb has had and has its problems, especially with local communities. Airbnb and other platforms are partly responsible for the rent increase in some cities, such as Barcelona and Berlin. It is also said that hosts earn black money through the platform, do not pay legal taxes, rent out illegal apartments. On the other hand, Airbnb has tackled the crazy rise in the price of accommodation. Because there was less competition, many accommodations raised high prices – because people had less choice, travelers had to pay. In some ways, Airbnb and other competitors have made travel more affordable in some areas and aspects. Here's a quick, simple overview of Airbnb's pros and cons. This is by no means a complete list. Pros: Aims for a more personal experience the website and app is safe and fantastic to use The app is off the chart Disadvantages: Local communities may have problems with Airbnb rentals – e.g. increasing the rental listing of illegal apartments without a license possible the additional fees are annoying – but fair in a way hosts can cancel your stay – without warning Here are some articles criticizing the movement and development of the so-called Shared Economy and Airbnb in particular: The Guardian – Airbnb and the so-called sharing economy are capturing our cities Airbnbs vs. Berlin – data comparison – they find that in Berlin there are an average of 2.9 beds per apartment on Airbnb 9. Our Airbnb Story We've stayed in several Airbnb's around the world. From Vietnam to Maldives; from Cyprus to Ireland. One of our favorite stays was in a room in a large lake house in Switzerland. We rented a room and drove through Europe. We needed a stopover before we came to Interlaken and found a nice room in a house near Lake Neuchâtel. The hostess was a lady around 50 years old and a friend of her stayed for the night. We arrived around 7 p.m. and were hungry. The room was beautiful, beautiful, Landscape and views from the balcony breathtaking. Oh, the morning will be great to see all this shining in full sun. Anyway, we asked them if we could use the kitchen, which was not a problem (we checked this online before!). They had already eaten dinner, so there was no point in eating together. Never, we always bring a bottle of beautiful Spanish red and white wine when we make Airbnb. We invited the hostess and her friend for a glass of wine. They were so happy. It never happened to them that a guest wanted to spend time with them. In addition, the red wine in Switzerland would cost around 50€. It cost us 4€ – and it made 4 people happy! What I'm trying to say is that Airbnb can be a pretty social experience. We like to look for places where we can meet the host and maybe spend time with him or her. In some ways, Airbnb can be your paid version of couchsurfing. 10. Become an Airbnb host – Rent your apartment/room The official statement goes like... No matter what kind of house or room you need to share, Airbnb makes it easy and safe to accommodate travelers. You have full control over your availability, prices, house rules and how you interact with guests. Do you want to start hosting your extra room or apartment on Airbnb? Do you run a hotel and would like to be listed here? Sign up with this link to start hosting. Airbnb is a great way to fill your beds or rent your extra room at home. Good to know: Airbnb will give you a suggestion for the price per night you should sell your room. In the past, these prices have been incredibly low. For example, for Barcelona in August, they proposed €20 for a private room with a good location. By comparison, a single bed in a dormitory in a good hostel in Barcelona summer is already around 25€. Last but not least: When hosting, make sure that you comply with the law of your city and country. In many countries you need a license to rent your entire apartment. In other countries, you can rent out your extra room up to a certain time and money limit. This is always different in every country. Please bare this in the back of your mind, play fairly and inform yourself. 11. Airbnb Experiences Airbnb began renting out accommodation. But that has already changed. They added their so-called Airbnb experiences. Good to know: Our promo code, valued at USD 35, also applies to Airbnb Experiences. Here, locals and tour operators can enjoy their tours, experiences such as kayaking, concerts, wine tastings, as you can List. The list has so many cool things to do and activities like: Health and Wellness Concerts Social Impact Surfing Entertainment Sports Nightlife Music History Nature Food & Drink Courses & Workshops So far we have only tried one Airbnb Experience. And unfortunately it wasn't the best. We had the impression that these activities in smaller groups are more local, more intimate. We did kayaking in Dubrovnik. Made. of a group of about 6-10 people, our group was 24 people. Well, that's not much, you could say. But here's the kicker: They're not all! There were in fact more than 400 people who kayaked their sunset, separated in different groups and with different guides. It's not a joke when we say we have to go kayaking to get back on land. So while we've had a pretty overwhelming experience, most activities seem to be much better. Friends of ours took part in private guitar concerts on a rooftop terrace in Barcelona, snorkelling trips in El Nido and much more. Our best recommendation: Ask beforehand how many people you should expect; to avoid a surprise like ours. Many experiences also show the maximum number of caregivers. Discover Airbnb experiences here. Emige andere Buchungsplattformen für Reiseerlebnisse, die eine Überlegung wert sind: Tiqets.com Klook Travel in der Kritik Lassen Sie uns noch einmal über den Rabatt sprechen. If you sign up here with our recommendation link, you will receive a sweet discount of 35€ on your first stay. This is an Airbnb discount code that works. In the unlikely but possible case it does not work, please contact us. We will send you another one immediately. As soon as you sign up, you will also receive your own referral code. This means that YOU can send this code to your own friends, saving them money and giving you more Airbnb credit. How it works in three simple steps: 1. Send an invitation to people you know, an invitation with a €25 discount on a home booking of €65 or more and €9 discount on an experience of €43 or more. 2. Receive €15 for each person who completes a stay and €9 for each person who has an experience. 3. Use the well-earned credit to book your next trip on Airbnb. Can you withdraw the Airbnb balance? No, you can't. This referral code only allows you to collect funds that you can only use on their own network, if you travel a lot, this is really like cash. Keep in mind that your balance may expire. Airbnb will send you a reminder email before it expires. As a rule, the credit is valid for at least 1 year. 13. Get your own Airbnb coupon code Once you sign up, do you actually use your own airbnb referral code? So, go ahead, share this with your friends at home. You can earn money with Airbnb in this way. It's important to remember that you can't make money with the Airbnb recommendation. You can't pay it out! You only credit and can use it in accommodations and experiences. How do I find my Airbnb referral code? Sign in and click on your profile icon in the upper right corner and select Invite Friends (it means you have to use up to €18 for your next booking. Invite people to earn more!) Here you can see your referral link in the form of a simple URL as you then see options for copying and pasting your referral link or sharing via email or facebook. Important to know: Your referral credit valid for 1 year until it expires. 14. Are some promo codes higher? You can come across website that claims a super high promo code value. Well, don't be too impressed by it. Honestly, all promo codes have the same value. It only depends on the currency in which they are displayed. 45 seems much more than 40€, doesn't it? Well, that's exactly the same thing. The only difference is that the user has his currency on. Did you notice we didn't even say US dollars? We could even share high 170 dollar promo codes so that someone thinks the value is incredibly high. Well, it would be Hong Kong dollars, or Singapore dollars, or Australian dollars. So don't be fooled. The value is the same, the procedure is the same, the result is the same. This could lead to a question: Can I apply an Airbnb voucher code for New Zealand if the other user is from Spain? Yes, you can! There is no geographical boundary. You can use it in Australia, Italy, Spain, Singapore, USA, you name it. 15. FAQ Here you have some frequently asked questions that we get a lot. Even if you have the full answer to the guide, it might be useful to review these questions if you are in a hurry. You can get an Airbnb discount by simply clicking on this link. When you sign up for a new Airbnb account, you'll get a discount of up to 40 dollars on your first reservation. Airbnb promo code offers new customers up to 50 dollars off their first reservation.
