

In You, Lord, I Refuge Take

PSALM 31

1. In You, Lord, I ref - uge take; let me not be put to shame.
2. My eyes weak with sor - row grow, and my bod - y fills with grief.
3. But I trust You are my God; all my days are in Your hands.
4. When I cried in my a - larm, "I am cut off from Your sight!"

Turn Your ear and quick - ly make safe - ty for my trem - bling frame.
All my years pass with a groan; my strength fails, my bones are weak.
Let Your face up - on me shine; make me in Your love to stand.
Praise the Lord, whose sav - ing arm was my res - cue and my light.

You're a rock and for - tress strong; I am lost and can - not see.
Those who see me turn to flee; my friends' eyes are filled with dread.
Great the stead - fast love You've stored for the poor, who ref - uge seek.
Love the Lord, all you His saints! You, who in Him ref - uge take.

For Your name's sake, lead me on; in Your hands my soul re - deem.
Like a pot - ter's bro - ken dream: in their gaze a shade of death.
In Your pres - ence, gra - cious Lord, in Your dwell - ing they find peace.
Though in dark - ness you may wait; all who hope in God are saved!
