Jessica Stocking provided the Advisory Board with an update on current Camp operations and activities. Jessica reported that Camp continues to operate under normal business operations, with programs and services continuing as planned. There are no significant operational changes to report at this time.

Jessica also provided an update regarding the recent audit conducted by the LCB (Legislative Counsel Bureau). Camp has completed the audit process, and, at this time, staff are not aware of any significant findings or concerns resulting from the audit. Camp will continue to monitor any follow-up items and address any recommendations or requirements that may come out of the review.

In addition, Jessica discussed Camp's ongoing efforts to identify and develop programming that meets the unique needs of youth within the Camp population who are also parents. Camp recognizes that young parents may require additional support and resources as they navigate parenting responsibilities while participating in Camp programs and services. Staff are currently exploring potential programming partnerships, and resources that could provide meaningful support to these youth and their children.

The Advisory Board was informed that identifying appropriate programming for young parents remains an area of interest for Camp, and additional information will be shared as potential opportunities and resources are identified.

6. For Presentation Only. Legislative Update

An update was provided to the Advisory Board regarding Camp's continued advocacy efforts to operate at full capacity. Camp remains committed to pursuing the necessary legislative and administrative support to allow the program to utilize its full authorized capacity. Advocacy efforts will continue during the upcoming legislative session, with Camp planning to actively engage with legislators and other stakeholders to advance this priority.

Camp has submitted its request to the State within the required timelines and deadlines. Staff will continue to communicate with State representatives and provide any additional information or documentation requested as the process moves forward.

As part of this effort, Camp will also provide the participating Counties with an anticipated cost allocation. The allocation will be based on the number of beds utilized and the student population served by each County. This information is intended to assist the Counties with planning and budgeting as Camp works toward operation at full capacity.

The Advisory Board will continue to receive updates regarding the legislative process, State communications, and the anticipated County cost allocations as additional information becomes available.
