Subject: Fellow Quantic Student Seeking Advice

Dear Grey,

My name is John, and I'm a fellow Quantic student (E/MBAX). I came across your profile in the Quantic network and noticed we are both interested in product management. In fact, your current role at Microsoft in product management is exactly what I'm aspiring to, post-MBA.

Would you have 30 minutes to chat about your career successes and any tips you may have for someone looking to enter the field?

Please let me know what works best for you.

Best,

John

Subject: Quantic Alumni Hoping to Connect

Dear Mark,

My name is Anna, and I'm a fellow Quantic alumni. I really appreciated your insightful comments during the Quantic LinkedIn Live session last week, so I wanted to connect and continue the conversation.

Do you have 30 minutes in the next week or two for a follow-up call?

I look forward to hearing from you.

Best,

Anna

Subject: Aspiring Entrepreneur Seeking Insight

Dear Dr. Tan,

My name is Bo, and I'm an aspiring entrepreneur and current MBA student. I recently learned of your company's acquisition from our mutual connection, Chloe Chen, and would like to congratulate you on this achievement. Based on my desire to become an entrepreneur after completing my MBA, Chloe recommended I reach out for advice. So, I would love to treat you to a coffee during my upcoming visit to San Francisco to learn more from you.

If you have any availability the week of June 1, please let me know, and I will plan my schedule accordingly.

Best,

Bo
