

Why join CodingIntel?

Coding Resources Improve Accuracy

How can you increase revenue and decrease compliance risk in your practice, confidently?

CodingIntel is a library of definitive, easy-to-use coding resources and on-line education for medical practices. The content is detailed, specific and citation driven. Coding and reimbursement rules are ever-changing and complex. The risk associated with wrong coding is real, from lost-revenue to paying back the government or a payer.

The resources on CodingIntel simplify complex rules for frequently used services. The coding guides provide in-depth guidance and the reference sheets provide a quick snap shot. Whether you are looking for the new (care management services) or the old (global payment, modifiers, E/M), turn to CodingIntel.

Stay up-to-date and Accurate

- Do you worry that you are missing coding revenue opportunities?
- Do you have confidence that your practice is coding compliantly?
- Would it be helpful if everyone--coders, billers, clinicians and managers--used the same resources for educating new staff and clinicians?

CodingIntel has you covered with

- In-depth coding guides and snap shot reference sheets
- Live monthly webinars, at no additional charge for members
- On-demand webinars with detailed learning materials
- Monthly newsletter keeping you up-to-date on CPT® coding changes and CMS policy changes
- Explanations that make sense backed up by source documentation

I've been at this a long time

Over the years, I've worked with thousands of coders, billers, physicians, nurse practitioners and physician assistants with a goal of simplifying complex coding rules. I've audited tens of thousands of encounters and spoken at hundreds of meetings. I do want your practice, (and all practices) to collect all of the money you are entitled to collect. I don't want your practice to collect money this year and then be at risk to return that money to payers next year, because you didn't understand coding rules.

CodingIntel—what's included

- Monthly webinar, and a library of on-demand webinars
- Up-to-date coding articles
- In-depth coding guides for when you need the detail, and snap shot reference sheets, when you need the answer at a glance
- Monthly member-only email

What's not included

A CodingIntel membership isn't a substitute if you need consulting services, or in-person education. And, a membership doesn't include providing answers to individual coding questions.

Membership levels

Choose the membership plan that is best for you. We have monthly and annual memberships for individuals (single user), and groups (up to 10 users), and an annual premier membership for larger groups (up to 30 users). Contact us for pricing for groups over 30.

Is CodingIntel right for you? It absolutely is if....

- You want to cut through uncertainty and confusion
- Your new clinicians and revenue cycle staff need coding education
- You want to provide high-quality education for your practice
- You need to protect your practice from revenue loss and compliance risk

I hope to see you as a member!

Betsy Nicoletti