Event SDFs

Use these in a Signup Page or Party Page containing Sparkhub header code, or in texts sent directly by Sparkhub for the Event. These are generally found in the Event settings; the tab is specified in parentheses below.

{shEventID}	Event ID
{shEventName}	Event Name (Basic Info)
{shSignupPage}	Signup Page, uniquely generated (Basic Info)
{shPartyPage}	Party Page, uniquely generated (Basic Info)
{shOrderLink}	Order Link (Basic Info)
my.sparkhub.app/h/{shEventID}	Host Portal link (Host)
{shHostFirst} {shHostLast}	Host's first/last name (Host)
{shGuestFirst} {shGuestLast}	Guest's first/last name; works if the guest is viewing a trackable version of their link - generally, a Party Page, not a Signup Page

{shHostSignupNpte}	Host's signup page note (set in Host Portal; you can set initial note in Host tab)
{shHostWelcomeNote}	Host's welcome note (set in Host Portal; you can set initial note in Host tab)
sparkhub.s3.amazonaws.com/host/{shEventID}	Host photo (set in Host Portal); can go in PBLP image block as the "image URL"
{shEventDescription}	Event description (Signup)
{shGuestCount}	Number of signups

Order SDFs

Use these in order follow-up workflows. For instance, they can go in texts (Sparks) or to-dos, or can be added to the Contact's Notes in PB.

{shOrderedItems}	The item(s) you optionally indicate when logging the order
{shOrderDate}	The order date you indicate when logging the order. It defaults to the current date if you don't specify otherwise.
{shTodaysDate}	The date you initiate the Workflow

User SDFs

These are based on your Profile information or the information you provided when you joined Sparkhub. These fields make it easy to share your Sparkhub setup with other users.

{shMyFirst}	Your first name
{shMyLast}	Your last name
{shMyPhone}	Your phone number
{shMyEmail}	Your email address associated with your Sparkhub account
{shMyCompany}	Your company name
{shMySite}	Your website
