Peachtree City, November 12, 2018 – HeroBox is proud to announce a collaboration with AmeriCold. On November 16, Americold will be hosting a HeroDay in several locations across the country to send care packages to deployed service members.

Americold is the world’s largest owner and operator of temperature-controlled warehouses. Located in Atlanta Georgia, Americold owns and operates 156 temperature-controlled warehouses that are an integral component of the supply chain connecting food producers, processors, distributors, and retailers to consumers.

Each location has chosen to donate 10 or more care packages to honor those men and women who serve our country. Office Supervisor, Diana Eastman, stated, “We had a blast putting the Hero Boxes together this year! Tons of donations, including some from our on-site customer Wewalka, and a local Cub Scout troop donated as well. By the end of the day we should have forty-four (44) boxes ready to send to Sung Choi and his team. We’re very excited and hope they enjoy the small token of our appreciation for them and their efforts to keep America safe. Many thanks.”

HeroBox is honored and full of joy that Americold chose to work with the HeroDay program to support a deployed unit. Like the service members who protect our freedom, HeroBox is forever grateful for their generosity.

Herobox is a nonprofit organization with a mission to provide the physical and moral support our heroes need while they are away from home. We are able to achieve this mission through programs that are designed to engage America’s greatest resource—the people
