THE KAMEHAMEHA SCHOOLS/ BERNICE PAUAHI BISHOP ESTATE

Foundation

Among the forebearers of Hawaii's children were those with a deep concern for the welfare of their people. Such a one was Princess Bernice Pauahi Bishop, daughter of High Chiefess Laura Konia and High Chief Abner Paki and great-granddaughter of Kamehameha the Great. Upon her death Mrs. Bishop, the heiress to a vast landed estate, left these lands in a perpetual charitable trust to found and maintain The Kamehameha Schools. Young people enrolled in The Schools programs are the sole beneficiaries of this Estate.

Campus Education

The Kamehameha Schools opened on November 4, 1887, with thirty-seven students, four faculty members, and five frame buildings. Today at The Schools 600-acre Kapalama Heights campus, there are 2,590 Hawaiian and part-Hawaiian students, from grades kindergarten through twelve; 185 faculty members; and 64 major buildings. Students come from all of the islands and constitute a wide representation of Hawaii's society. Therefore, the curriculum is comprehensive, seeking to meet the needs of the college-bound as well as those for whom high school is preparation for entering a vocation of their choosing. Since its beginning 7,275 persons have graduated from Kamehameha, more than half of these since 1959.

Extension Education

Additional thousands of young people and adults have received educational benefits from The Kamehameha Schools/Bernice P. Bishop Estate's Extension Education Department, begun in 1963.

- State-wide summer programs were designed to help participants improve their study skills.

These were followed by Explorations, which brings fifth graders from all over the state to the Kapalama Heights campus for weeklong sessions to learn about Hawaii's culture.

CHARLES REED BISHOP/1846-1915

The year 1972 marks the 150th anniversary of Charles Reed Bishop's birth. The husband of Princess Bernice Pauahi, founder of the Kamehameha Schools, he was a distinguished business and community leader in Hawaii and a philanthropist of rare proportions. He gave large sums of money to educational institutions, churches, museums, and hospitals, among others.

Chairman of the first Board of Trustees of The Bishop Estate, Mr. Bishop spent fourteen years after his wife's death seeing to the fulfillment of her wishes, the establishment and maintenance of The Kamehameha Schools. The final years of his life were spent in San Francisco where he died in 1915. His ashes were returned to Hawaii and the urn placed next to Mrs. Bishop's remains in the Kamehameha crypt at the Royal Mausoleum.

Through these two programs alone, more than 10,000 youngsters have benefited from The Kamehameha Schools/Bernice P. Bishop Estate resources.

- A Hawaiian Resources Department was established in 1967 to collect, develop, and disseminate material related to Hawaiian culture. To date, Kamehameha's Hawaiiiana Resources Team has given demonstrations throughout the state to approximately 50,000 students, teachers, and other adults.
- Since 1963, Kamehameha has operated a post high school financial aid program. In the last nine years, 1,107 graduates needing financial assistance have been helped to continue their education at the institution of their choice.
- Kamehameha's Campus Summer School served 1,182 students last year, more than 800 of whom regularly attend school elsewhere.
- Kamehameha's Early Education Project was inaugurated in 1971. This is a research and development program designed to help Hawaiian and part-Hawaiian youngsters not enrolled in The Schools campus program secure the benefits of education.

Direction

Responsible for management of the lands and the operations of The Kamehameha Schools are five Trustees, who are assisted by a staff of engineers and administrators. A Board of Governors reviews school policies and programs and makes recommendations to the Trustees.

The five Trustees are working constantly to increase the revenues of the Estate that more of Hawaii's children may receive educational benefits from the resources of The Kamehameha Schools/Bernice Pauahi Bishop Estate.

Rich in tradition, Kamehameha looks to the future with the high anticipation that building on successes of the past, its services may be multiplied in the years ahead, to the benefit of Hawaiians and part-Hawaiians throughout all our islands and through them to the community at large.

CHARLES EDWARD KING/1874-1950

Born in Honolulu on the Queen Emma Estate in Nuuanu Valley, Charles E. King had an auspicious beginning: Queen Emma christened him. The date was September 20, 1874; the place, St. Andrews Cathedral. And he was baptized Charles Edward King in honor of Prince Charles Edward of Great Britain.

He studied at The Kamehameha Schools and graduated in 1891. This was The Schools first graduating class. The Honorable Charles R. Bishop took an interest in young King and saw to his receiving a scholarship to Oswego Normal School in New York. Returning to Hawaii, King taught music in the public schools and also at Kamehameha, conducted the Royal Hawaiian Band, and for a time served as a Territorial Senator.

He is best remembered as a prolific writer of Hawaiian songs. Among the most famous of these are Ke Kali Nei Au, 'Imi Au Iā 'Oe, Ku'u Lei Lehua, and Ka'iulani Ali'i.

HŌ'IKE

Although the word hō'ike is usually associated with Sunday School programs, it has many meanings, including the following: to show; to make known; to display; to tell; to exhibit; to reveal; to explain.

Through chant, dance, and narration, we present a Hō'ike of Hawaii's beauty. The chants were collected by Charles E. King, and dance settings were done by Winona K. Beamer. Our hō'ike cautions man to be aware of nature's power—mana. Man learns from nature which provides sustenance for body and spirit.

FIFTY YEARS OF CONTESTS

Tonight we recognize fifty years of formal song contests. While music had been an important part of The Schools since its founding in 1887, not until 1920 was the first inter-class song night held. The following year the George Andrus cup was awarded to the contest winner for the boys school. By 1922 the girls school had their own winner's cup, The New England Mothers cup.

In 1967 a new dimension was added to the song contest when the boys and girls of each class combined to present a song, and from that year on, the Trustees' Charles E. King cup has been presented to the winners of the combined class competition.

A popular addition to the contest came in 1966 when a special program of songs and dances was presented during the interval while the judges' score sheets were being tallied.

The song contest is unique—a Kamehameha tradition of half a century. Through it, students gain knowledge of Hawaiian music, cooperate in the preparing and performing their native songs, and share their talents and heritage with people throughout our island state.
