Pacific Northwest artist Carol Deutsch of Ocean Shores is the owner/artist of the company Dragonfly Rocks LLC. She is a new vendor at the Gala Garden Show.

The brilliant colors and iridescent glass used in the artwork add a glistening movement to your garden.

In her experience in sharing these with the public these are the most commonly asked questions:

• WHAT IS A DRAGONFLY ROCK?

Natural stone inlaid with iridescent glass and glass beads create stunning dragonflies, hummingbirds, butterflies, spiders and more.

• IS THIS YOUR ORIGINAL IDEA?

Yes it is, the idea of the dragonfly rock was born in my garden back in the spring of 2010. I noticed a brilliantly colored dragonfly flitting around the garden, I started following it admiring its beauty ... it landed on a rock ... A few days later I was playing around in my studio and created my first dragonfly rock. They were received with much delight.

I started getting requests for hummingbirds and butterflies and so on. Other items you may find in my store are spiders, salmon, crab and lighthouses. I always am creating something new — like my latest additions, dragonfly and hummingbird garden stakes.

• NOT SURE HOW TO DISPLAY ONE?

They are beautiful in the garden, along a path, in a water feature, in a flower pot or garden window. Some people use them as door or gate stops.

• BEAUTIFUL, BUT CAN THEY SURVIVE EXTREME WEATHER CONDITIONS?

I have many test subjects around my yard, one which has been living in a water fountain for four years, freezing solid each year, still in excellent condition. I have many customers stopping by my booth commenting on how they have had the rock for a couple of years and it still looks brand new! The stability of the artwork creates many repeat customers.

• WHAT, IF ANY, ARE THE PROBLEMS WITH THE ARTWORK?

Addiction ... many people buy these as gifts and end up liking them so much they tend to need to buy another for themselves. I have quite a few collectors.

They do make a great gift for all occasions ... I receive many a thank you from recipients—they just love them.

I am very proud of my creations. I delight in the smiles my artwork creates upon entrance to my booth/store ... all of the satisfied customers stopping by to thank me and the beautiful heartwarming stories of peoples interactions with the dragonfly.

I invite you to stop by my booth and take a look at my glistening garden gems. Who knows, you may just have the perfect spot for one yourself ... Oh yes ... they make great Mothers Day gifts.
