

Writing Wednesday

In May and June, we have completed five Writing Wednesdays: two were on poetry, one was on the rainy first day of summer, one was instructions for studying for a test, and one was about the best day in Grade 6. This week, use feedback that we have given you on all of your writing over the past two months and select one of these Writing Wednesdays to revise and transform into a creative piece of MEDIA literacy. It is your choice on the way your ideas will be shared. Be creative and try something different - PowerPoint, Bitstrips, Zimmertwins, Movie Maker, Posters, Brochures, Advertisements, Commercials, Podcasts, Recorded Interviews, iPad Apps like Puppet Pal, iMovie, and Sonic Pics, or something of your own choice (just be sure to ask your teacher first if you go for this last option. Thanks!). Remember to use specific details, examples, and your own ideas to support your answer. For an added challenge, try to incorporate point of view into your media text. This will be your last Writing Wednesday of the school year, so amaze us!
