

Week Before March Break Homework

Since I don't want students to have homework over the March Break, I've decided to do something different for homework this week. Please spend each night this week watching, listening to, or reading about federal, provincial, or municipal government issues (in Canada). Talk about what you read. Even discuss some possible solutions together. There are lots of links on this Pinterest Page that may help: pinterest.com/adunsiger/government. Since we'll be exploring the government more in class, these home discussions will really help us out with understanding difficult topics. Thanks for your support!

Aviva

Week Before March Break Homework

Since I don't want students to have homework over the March Break, I've decided to do something different for homework this week. Please spend each night this week watching, listening to, or reading about federal, provincial, or municipal government issues (in Canada). Talk about what you read. Even discuss some possible solutions together. There are lots of links on this Pinterest Page that may help: pinterest.com/adunsiger/government. Since we'll be exploring the government more in class, these home discussions will really help us out with understanding difficult topics. Thanks for your support!

Aviva

Week Before March Break Homework

Since I don't want students to have homework over the March Break, I've decided to do something different for homework this week. Please spend each night this week watching, listening to, or reading about federal, provincial, or municipal government issues (in Canada). Talk about what you read. Even discuss some possible solutions together. There are lots of links on this Pinterest Page that may help: pinterest.com/adunsiger/government. Since we'll be exploring the government more in class, these home discussions will really help us out with understanding difficult topics. Thanks for your support!

Aviva