

Marvellous Media Mondays
Due On Tuesday, February 18, 2014

Advertisement For Your Organ System
Display

On Tuesday, February 18, 2014, we're having a tour of the Organ System Displays. Various students in Grades 3-5 will be visiting our classroom to learn more about how the different organ systems work.

Since all of our group displays will be spread out around the classroom, you need an advertisement to help people know what to expect at your table. Create an advertisement at home for your organ system display. Your ad can be a print ad (e.g., a poster) or even a movie trailer or commercial. (We've examined and created all of these different advertisements before!) Just be prepared to share what you create at school on the 18th!

All advertisements will be displayed around your group's organ system to help draw attention to your special project. I can't wait to see what you create!