

Step 1:

Choose one of the following Four Fathers of Confederation to create a Facebook profile for.

- 1) John A. Macdonald
- 2) George Cartier
- 3) George Brown
- 4) Thomas McGee

Step 2:

Using primary sources and secondary sources, research the Father of Confederation so that can include the following information in the Facebook profile.

- What political group this person belongs to. Be sure to understand the views and beliefs of this particular group (you do not want to be making comments about your belief in French separatism if you belong with a political party that does not meet this description)
- Who else held similar beliefs as your character? (Friends on Facebook)
- Who held opposing beliefs? (Enemies on Facebook)
- Why was your person held as a “Father of Confederation?” Find the key points that made him a significant historical figure

Step 3

Begin to summarize your information and present it through the Facebook profile outline.

You will need:

- Profile Picture
- Create a cover photo that symbolizes your character
- 1 Status expressing views or opinions of your character
- 3 Friends in the “friends” section
- 3 Enemies in the “friends” section (make sure to specify which are which)
- 2 separate comments posted from YOUR character, demonstrating knowledge of his ideas/ beliefs
- 1 conversation post between you and one of your enemies discussing a key component of Confederation
- 6 pictures demonstrating “Likes” of your character

Be sure to use your time wisely!
