

Disability Awareness Training

- Consulting & Training Services -

The IAFE has partnered with David Whalen and Disability Awareness Training (DAT) to provide education, resources, and training to all association members on how to handle accessibility issues for individuals with disabilities at your fair or event.

As a benefit of this partnership, IAFE has arranged for DAT to be able to come to your location and provide one day of consulting and training services at a group discount of $2,000 plus travel expenses.
