The EC is very pleased with the organization, implementation and outcome of the IAOA-Vespucci Summer Institute that took place in Fiesole (Italy) on July 18-22, and thanks the organization team for the good job done. The event was successful both in terms of registration (all available seats were filled) and in terms of activities. A press release will be issued to familiarize the members and the large community with this kind of events, characterized by focussed presentations, team work and long open discussions. The Association plans to organize a Summer School next year (2012), and the EC looks forward to another Summer Institute in 2013.

The IAOA web site is being updated. In particular, this time the Infrastructure Committee is focusing on making information about SIGs, Committees and Supported Events more accessible, to enable more membership involvement.

The EC looked carefully at the proposed changes in the IAOA Statute. This revision normalizes the content in the IAOA Statute and the content in the ByLaws. Both documents are being edited and a consistency check is planned by the end of the summer.
