

Young Israel of Bal Harbour The Dose

Thursday, June 9, 2016, Sivan 3, 5776

Sponsored by: Susan and Aaron Weinberg

in honor of our Rav, Rabbi Moshe Gruenstein for his teaching and spiritual leadership.

All we have to do is make a little more money and work just a little harder and then we will be happy. Yes, society convinces us to spend more money to buy more materialistic possessions that we really don't need to impress people who really don't care. David Myers, a professor of Psychology at Michigan's Hope College writes in his book, "The Pursuit of Happiness" where he quotes a student from a very wealthy home – "My parents bought me every luxury imaginable – do these things make me happy? Absolutely not!" I would trade all our family's wealth for a peaceful and loving home.

(Sefer-Taking Stock - Rabbi Benjamin Blech)

Wishing you an inspiring day!

Rabbi Moshe Gruenstein