S'firat Ha'Omer

(from <http://www.torahtots.com>)

KORBAN OMER

In the time of the Bait Hamikdash, on the second day of Pesach / Passover (the 16th of Nisan), the Korban "Omer" is offered.

On the second night of Pesach (the first night of Chol Hamoed in Eretz Yisroel) in a field outside Yerushalayim, harvesters cut enough bundles (three sa'a — about 16 lbs.) of barley to make 5 pounds of fine flour.

Back in the Bait Hamikdash, the Kohanim thresh the stalks till the kernels come tumbling down. Next the kernels are roasted over a fire and ground into flour. The flour is sifted until only the finest flour remains.

It takes about five pounds — an Omer — of flour mixed with oil and a handful of levona spice to make a Korban Omer. The mixture is placed in a pan. The pan is waved in all directions. Then a handful of the mixture is burned on the Mizbayach (Altar) and the rest is given out for the Kohanim to eat.

BARLEY TIME TO COUNT

Pesach starts the grain harvesting season. Hashem commands that the barley cannot be harvested until the Korban Omer is brought.

The Korban Omer is also a starting point in the countdown to Matan Torah (the giving of the Torah). According to the Torah (Vayikra, Parshat Emor, 23:15-16), we are obligated to count 49 days from the second night of Pesach to the day before Shavuot, seven full weeks. This period is known as the Counting of the Omer.

For 49 days, starting the second day of Pesach, on whichever day of the week that might happen to fall, we count "the Omer."

These 49 days represent the 49 days of preparation from Yetziat Mitzrayim (exodus from Egypt) to Matan Torah on the seventh day of Sivan.

The day after this counting is complete, the 50th day, is the Yom Tov of Shavuot, the anniversary of the giving of the Torah to the Jewish people. The counting reminds us of the important connection between Pesach/Passover and Shavuot: Pesach freed us physically from bondage, but the giving of the Torah on Shavuot redeemed us spiritually from our bondage to idolatry and immorality.

TIME TO GET THE TORAH

Hashem commands the Jews that on the 50th day of counting the Omer we must celebrate the Yom Tov of Shavuot. In the Bait Hamikdash the Kohanim would offer the Shtay Halechem (two loaves) baked from the first wheat of the new harvest.

Hashem promises that as a reward for the wheat offering He will bless the fruit of your fields. Unlike other dough offerings, the Shtay Lechem offering is allowed to rise. This offering is not burnt on the Mizbayach, it is shared by all the Kohanim.

After the destruction of the Bait Hamikdash, the practice of bringing the Korban Omer was discontinued but Jews continued to "count the Omer period," a custom which has continued throughout the ages.

HOW DO WE COUNT?

Each evening, while standing, we recite a Bracha (blessing) out loud. After reciting the bracha, we state the count of the Omer in both weeks and days.

So on the first night we start with "Hayom Yom Echad La'Omer" — ("Today is one day of the Omer"). On the sixteenth day, for example, we would say "Today is sixteen days, which is two weeks and two days of the Omer." The counting concludes the night before Shavuot, always on the sixth day of the month of Sivan, "Hayom Tish'ah V'Arba'im Yom Shehaym Shiv'ah Shavuot La'Omer" — ("Today is 49 days which is seven weeks of the Omer.")

If one forgot to count at night but remembers the next day, one should count immediately without a bracha. One then resumes the regular count that evening with a bracha. If a person misses an entire day, then all further counting until Shavuot is done without a bracha.

Sponsor the Lev Echad

For just $36 you get to contribute to the shul, fill that gaping hole on the front page of the Lev and get your message out to the kehillah.

You can thank your seder hosts for the stimulating discussion that ensured you ended after 3 am. Or thank your seder guests for bringing you chocolate covered matzoh or that really tacky (but delicious) chocolate seder plate.

Or anything else (within reason).

Camp Shabbos

Camp Shabbos offers parents of young children up to age 7 the opportunity to take part in shul while their children enjoy supervised play.

To help keep it going, we need volunteers to rotate the responsibility of being the point person for each session.

The job includes:

- coordinating the snacks beforehand, either by purchasing them yourself or getting someone else to purchase and bring them in;
- arriving by 10 am (or a little earlier) on Shabbos; and
- being on call during Camp Shabbos hours (10-11:30 am) in case the babysitter needs anything; you do not have to be downstairs the entire time.

To volunteer, contact Adriana Steinberg, abpeljovich@yahoo.com or 202-641-6677.

Focus on Tanach

The idea is to complete all of Tanach, as a community, with each family or individual learning a book from Tanach or a Parsha from the Torah. There can be overlap, as long as we finish Tanach as a shul.
