

Integrative Health & Wellbeing Fellowship 2019 – 2021

*We are now accepting applications for the two-year Clinical Fellowship Program, July 2019 - June 2021.

Option for 1-year fellowship if candidate has already completed 1 year of University of Arizona's online curriculum.*

Eligibility:

Applicants must have completed an ACGME-accredited residency in Internal Medicine or Family Medicine by July 1, 2019. Applicants must be board-certified or board-eligible in their primary specialty. Prospective fellows must apply for and be selected for the University of Arizona Integrative Medicine Fellowship Program beginning in February 2019 or in Fall 2019.

Fellowship Summary:

This fellowship in Integrative Health and Medicine is designed to offer comprehensive education and hands-on experience in the field of Integrative Medicine. Prospective fellows are individuals looking to augment their clinical practice, or those looking to transition into practice of Integrative Medicine. The fellowship includes clinical teaching and experience in the field, participation in interdisciplinary clinical discussions, and access to resources in education, research, and quality improvement. In addition, the fellowship includes the completion of the online curriculum developed by the University of Arizona, including online modules and off-site residential weeks. The fellow will receive mentorship needed to develop and complete a clinical, research, and/or educational project of his or her choosing during the fellowship.

Interested applicants should contact Benicia Fernandez at bef2008@med.cornell.edu. Applications are accepted on a rolling basis, and will be closed when positions are filled.
