

Chapter 8

Discipline

8. Discipline

INTRODUCTORY NOTE TO USE OF THIS TABLE. This Table of Penalties includes only matters likely to be encountered by Race Officials in the course of an event. Disciplinary measures should generally be imposed in accordance with the scale of penalties given below. The Chief Referee or Race Commission may increase or reduce any penalty based upon the gravity of the offense(s) committed.

The offenses are described in the table in an abbreviated descriptive form only. If you are uncertain as to applicability of a particular rule, review the complete text of the rule before imposing a penalty.

In imposing discipline remember that the philosophy is that a rider must not benefit from his/her misconduct or that of his/her team or support personnel. See Rule 1N1

Disciplinary measures, including warning, relegation, disqualification (DSQ), monetary fines and/or recommendation for suspension, also may be imposed by a Chief Referee with respect to any offense or inappropriate conduct not specifically set forth in the table below.

Time penalties applicable in time trials are set forth in section 8I.

In stage races, relegations affect only stage placing, but time penalties affect individual general classification. However, the race commission may choose to apply some time penalties to team G.C.

FINES. Fines and penalties should be progressively increased to riders or other licensees committing more than one offense or for multiple offenses of the same nature. Fines should rarely be assessed in Category C, D, or E events or at collegiate events. Care and common sense should be exercised in assessing fines to Category 4 or 5 riders competing in A or B events as other penalties are likely to be just as effective and far less burdensome.

SUSPENSIONS. Some serious offenses warrant additional penalties such as a suspension. Neither a Chief Referee nor a Race Commission can impose a suspension. Suspensions are handled under USAC Policy III. Whenever a Chief Referee or Race Commission believes a suspension is indicated, a suspension request or recommendation should be submitted to the USAC Technical Director as soon as possible. The disciplinary request should state the nature of the offense, identify the licensee(s) against whom the suspension(s) is/are recommended, and provide a statement of the facts and circumstances warranting the suspension. Suspensions can be for a period of days, a racing season, a period of years, or for life, depending upon the specific actions or offenses. Typical suspension periods for the various classes of infractions are set forth in section 8J.

REPORTING PENALTIES. Officials should report all penalties online using the discipline app or website tool for that purpose. This will allow other officials to look up riders and see what has previously been done. It will also guide you through the proper range of acceptable penalties.
