

U.S. Domestic Elite Teams - 2018

Marc Pro p/b Gym One Cycling

San Francisco, Calif.

The team formerly known as h24cycling changes title sponsors, adds promising new riders, increases support from key technical sponsors, and continues on as a USA Cycling Domestic Elite Team in 2018. The Marc Pro Cycling Team presented by Gym One returns with Marc Pro moving from a presenting sponsor in 2017 to title sponsor in 2018. New support is provided by Gym One of Cambria, Calif. The 15-rider elite team, racing under the direction of long-time Bay Area cycling fixture Philip Mooney, will be registered as a USA Cycling Domestic Elite team in 2018. The team will retain its core talent from 2017, and bolsters the roster with the addition of three new riders - 21-year-old Quinten Kirby of San Diego, Calif. Gavin Murray of Sebastopol, Calif., and former unicycling star Sam Anderson-Moxley of Boulder, Colo.

Team California

Storck-CCN was renamed as Team California for the 2018 season, racing as a Domestic Elite Cycling Team and based in Northern California. Echelon Racing Development manages the team, entering its third year as a USAC-registered Domestic Elite Team (DET). Team California will partner with “Fast Freddie” Rodriguez, four-Time U.S. Road Race National Champion and his Fast Freddie Foundation. Managing director AJ Kennedy realized the need for a transition program for young riders leaving the junior ranks and moving up to the elite level. The focus during the 2013 season was to create the initial squad and build a core group of riders that became the foundation for adding young talent, U23 and U25 riders.

CS Velo Racing p/b Cannondale

C.S. Velo (Combined Strength Racing) is an Elite level cycling team with one idea...we are stronger as a whole than as individuals. That combined strength will be channeled to uplift individuals that need it. Each rider will be riding for someone they feel needs to draw from the strength created by this team environment. The name of those we are riding for will be on each member's jersey as a constant reminder of why we are riding. C.S. Velo will ride as a team and will always ride with a purpose.
