To keep programmes current, fit for purpose and focused, the IMM Graduate School may update the structures of academic programmes. Students on an academic programme where a new programme structure became available may change to the new structure by completing the Structure Change Application Form. Students are required to read the IMM Graduate School Student Yearbook as well as the Prospectus with all the relevant information before completing and submitting this Structure Change Application Form. Late registration fees will apply when the Structure Change Application Form and/or Registration Form is received after the due date, even if the payment was received by the due date, as specified in the Calendar of Events.
