Re: Victoria Bay RD-Liquid Laundry Detergent
(G00096 / G00095)

To Whom It May Concern:

As you may be aware, USDA no longer offers a program of product authorization and classification. Chemical manufacturers may now self-certify their products.

This is to certify that this product was developed and is manufactured with consideration for the USDA "Guidelines for Obtaining Authorization of Compounds to be used in Meat and Poultry Plants." This product meets the requirements of 9CFR Section 416.4(c).

This product is acceptable for laundering uniforms or other fabric which does not come in direct contact with food products in official establishments operating under the Federal meat and poultry products inspection program (formerly USDA Classification B2.)

Sincerely,
