This visualization shows how the smallest countries in the world—less than 5 million inhabitants—score on the six World Governance Indicators. Moreover, a number of other indicators are visualized. For instance the rank of the countries on the Human Development Index (HDI), the GDP, the number of women in the national parliament, the expenditure on healthcare per capita and the aid effectiveness score.

This visualization was created for the World Data Visualization Prize 2016 by WorldGovernmentSummit.org
