

WILL AMERICA'S FIRST FEMALE PRESIDENT BE FROM OKLAHOMA?

“Reading The Oklahoman has given
my daughter an academic advantage and inspired her to be president.”

Meet Jemma and Abigail

Future First Mom and Future President

MOVE OVER HILLZ AND CARLY... HERE COMES ABIGAIL.

Abigail's mom knows that raising a reader is the single most important way to make her child a success. In fact, research shows by simply reading the newspaper kids score 25% higher on achievement tests (Institute of Education).

It also fuels Abigail's passion. When she reads The Oklahoman's political coverage, it makes her want to enter the political arena. “I don't want Hillary or Carly to be the first woman president. I want to be the first woman president,” she says. Well, with confidence like that — she's got our vote.
