These are some ways to visualise data - how do we choose which chart to pick? Use the categories across the page to help you decide which chart relationship most important in your story. Then look at the different visual options for each category until you find something that works best. This list is far from being exhaustive, but is a good starting point for a visual vocabulary in data visualisation.