

The Article Score dashboard helps me discover content that is of interest to users. It often shows things that were not on my radar. The tool helps us deliver content through the right channels so that new readers and registered users return to us and then subscribe. In addition, the Article Score tool enables our readers to get exactly what they expect from us without having to search for it.

-- Christian Steiner, NZZ online editor