Shelley Goldstein

A sought-after speaker, coach, and corporate trainer, Shelley is the architect of “REMARKABLE SPEAKING,” a personal framework she turned into a leadership development platform encompassing experiential training for high-level professionals to improve their public speaking and command executive presence.

Drawing upon her more than 30 years of senior-level management, entrepreneurship, marketing, design expertise, and public speaking coaching, Shelley has fine-tuned her signature Remarkable framework, a process that helps people tap into their fullest potential and understand the power of their stories. Clients affectionately refer to her as “The Coach Whisperer,” a testament to her ability to have coached 1000+ individuals in over 47 countries worldwide to achieve speaking success.

While an impassioned, rhythmic meditation on the craft of speaking, Shelley’s #1 international bestselling book, Remarkable Speaking: A Framework to Embody Your Voice and Vision, serves as a handy reference and comprehensive workbook for the forward-thinking speaker.

For her work in women’s empowerment, Shelley has been named a finalist for 2025 Women Changing the World Awards championed by Sarah, Duchess of York, blazing a trail for social impact.

A lifelong communication arts student, Shelley understands how to deliver her message and fuse her multicultural experience and multidisciplinary approach to moving people into greatness. She is a 3rd Tier Ultraspeaking Coach, National Speakers Association (NSA) member and Gold Tier Facilitator for Google’s #IAmRemarkable global initiative. Shelley’s mission is to help raise the voice of every person, especially the unspoken.

She is the host of Remarkable Speaking Podcast (premiering in April of 2025) creator of the YouTube channel Coach Shelley.
