Parenting Expert and Educational Consultant

Cindy Shuster is an engaging and dynamic speaker. With 7+ years of experience as a parent coach and educational consultant, Cindy brings her unique blend of practicality, humor, and relatable strategies to every speaking event. In addition, Cindy has been a parent for almost 3 decades and was a classroom teacher for 10 years. Cindy brings her unique set of life and professional experiences into all of her speaking opportunities. She is available to work with individuals, groups, organizations, and companies who are interested in understanding how to create ideal relationships with the children in their care.

Client Feedback

- “I enjoyed the presentation and felt like it will be very useful as my daughter starts her journey in college. I loved Cindy's own examples she used about her experiences with her sons. Highly recommend!”
- “Cindy understands how complicated life has become with technology and high demands on children. Her encouragement, suggestions, and strategies are effective and manageable for today's busy families.”
