

Robin Huling

High-Impact Leaders Create High-Functioning Teams
Behavior & Communication Specialist, Consultant,
Speaker and Facilitator

Robin Huling is a Leadership Development Consultant and Speaker specializing in Effective Communication, Change Management, and Workforce AI Implementation strategies. With over two decades of experience, she has worked with prestigious global brands such as Universal Studios, Planet Hollywood, Walt Disney World, and The American Red Cross.

Her passion lies in leadership training and team building, and she possesses a profound understanding of DISC Behavior Theory. Robin skillfully leverages this knowledge to empower individuals and teams, helping them unlock their full potential by removing self-imposed barriers. Robin helps leaders and teams integrate AI using change management strategies, behavioral insights, and effective communication techniques. She designs and delivers interactive, hands-on workshops that equip leaders with the tools to implement AI without disruption, fear, or resistance. Her work focuses on making AI accessible, ethical, and practical for organizations looking to future-proof their teams.

Robin is actively involved in community leadership and currently serves as:

- Member of the Responsible AI Community Consortium, contributing to the development of a Responsible AI Playbook for the State of Utah
- President of the West Jordan Chamber of Commerce
- Board Member for Utah Foster Care and the Women Wellness Summit
- Chair of Women in Leadership for Silicon Slopes

Robin is based in Utah, where she lives with her husband and four children.
