Terry,

Here is the email that I sent to Family Promise regarding the neighborhood's questions, comments, and concerns that I gathered during the meetings I held at the library September 12 thru 15th, 2022.

The most important questions that I believe the Town of Plainfield should get answers for are the questions that I received last week in the mail. The three letters: Original Letter 1, Original Letter 2, and Original Letter 3, are town and community focused. These questions were clearly written by a lawyer, potentially three lawyers, because of the tone, cadence, and presentation of the questions. These questions are really Interrogatories that would be asked in a legal matter.

I hope that Family Promise will answer and address all questions presented to them; however, as you stated in our phone conversation today, they do not have to. They do have to address the Town's questions/concerns and I hope that you will incorporate these three original letters into your discussions with Family Promise.

The Hope United Neighborhood Collective will be looking for someone to answer the questions and concerns that we have raised, especially the three letters that we received in the mail.

If you have any questions or answers for us, please feel free to contact me at this email, kaheckler1@aol.com, or via phone at 317.989.7696.

Thank you for your time,
Kim White

Julie,

As you know, I conducted open house meetings where the neighborhood surrounding Hope United Presbyterian Church could come and discuss your Resource Center at Hope.

At this meeting, attendees were asked to write down any questions, comments, and/or concerns they had.

I have collated the survey results into the attached file "Question Comments Concerns from Library Meetings".

Today I received three (3) letters in the mail that outline additional questions and comments regarding Family Promise's plans for Hope United Presbyterian Church. I have attached these letters into the attached files "Original Letter 1", "Original Letter 2", and "Original Letter 3".

I know you will be conducting an additional meeting on October 4, 2022, at Hope United Presbyterian Church. I hope you will be able to address the questions, comments, and concerns that I am presenting you with. For those questions that will require additional information and resources to answer, you can provide written responses to this email.
