

The Birds Made a New Friend

There was a huge banyan tree, where many birds and a small snake lived. The small snake used to eat the bird eggs, which made the birds very angry.

We must make a friend who can kill the snake

they said, so they made friends with a jackal.

The jackal came and killed the snake, and the birds were very happy, so they called him to dinner. The jackal came and ate all of them

We must be careful who we make friends with.
