

Online Learning

Due to the COVID situation, all the schools and institutions shifted their academic activities from physical to online mode, which led the students to carry their studies casually.

This story is about the situation of a teacher and their students

Good morning to all the students.

We will be studying in online mode until the school starts physically again.

All the students are required to mute their mic and switch ON their camera.

Yashoda and Bala were best friends, so they attended the class together. During class, Yashoda and Bala were getting bored.

Yashoda, I am getting bored. Let's do something fun.

Okay, but sir will scold us.

Meanwhile, teacher: "Yashoda and Bala, what are you talking about? Kindly pay attention to the class."

Yashoda got scared.

Yes, sir? Are you saying something to us? You are not audible, sir.

Yes sir, your voice is breaking.

The teacher thought it was a genuine reason and continued with the class.

Bala and Yashoda were happy that they fooled the master.

The next day, Bala was feeling sleepy during class, so he told Yashoda to attend it.

If the teacher asks for him, she needs to reply as he is sitting aside. Then Bala slept for a while.

The teacher found it strange that Bala hadn't been in front of the camera for a while.

The teacher asked: "Yashoda, where is Bala?"

Yashoda secretly moved her hands to wake up Bala.

She was so frightened that she kicked her leg to wake up Bala. Bala woke up and asked her why did she kick him.

The teacher from the background:
"Yashoda, where are you seeing? Kindly tell me if Bala is present in the class or not."

Yes, sir! Yes, sir!
Present, sir! I was not sleeping.

Now, the day came when Bala couldn't escape. This habit of Bala became regular.

One day, Bala was sleeping during the class as usual, and this time he didn't wake up on time.

Yashoda tried her best to wake him up.

Yashoda had no other option but to turn the computer around and show the teacher that Bala was sleeping.

All the students who were present in the class started laughing loudly and made fun of him.

The teacher knew that he would get to see something like this, so he immediately mailed a complaint to his parents.

After receiving the mail, his parents scolded Bala instantly and told him not to do this again.

This way, he is spoiling his studies and future also.

Cheating on them will turn into cheating yourself only.

Whatever be the reason, never try to fool your elders and teachers.
