Jory Fisher: Hello and welcome to Heart & Soul for Women of Faith, a radio show designed specifically for Christian women leaders and entrepreneurs. My co-hosts and I focus our discussions on how to live a joyful and purposeful life by developing healthy bodies and souls, healthy minds and finances, and healthy relationships. Our goal is to help you nourish your physical, mental, and spiritual well-being so you can make the difference you're called to make and glorify God through success. I'm Jory Fisher, a featured host on BlogTalkRadio with my co-host: author, speaker, international ministry leader, and dear friend, Kim Crabill. Good evening, Kim. Thank you for joining me for year 6, episode 204 of Heart & Soul for Women of Faith, how are you this tonight?

Kim Crabill: Good evening. I'm great. It's hard to believe you've already had six so this is wonderful. I'm so glad to be with you. I'd like to welcome all the listeners. I think that we've got a great show they are going to be interested in. So I hope our listeners will grab a seat and maybe some coffee or tea, grab some note paper and follow along with us on this great topic that we have before them.

Jory Fisher: Good idea. Hey y'all, especially when Kim is my co-host here, you've got to grab a cup of coffee in honor of her COFFEE Ministry and do make sure that you have a pen, a pad of paper, maybe a notepad of some kind, something in order to take notes because you won't want to miss out on this.

Before we start our conversation though, we'd like to tell you a little bit about who are and how we fulfill our calling. As a Professional Certified Coach and Top Six Expert, I specialize in helping Christian leaders and entrepreneurs get crystal clear on their calling and create a healthy life and business so they can make a bigger, more meaningful contribution to the world. Please visit JoryFisher.com to sign up for free e-books and to enjoy hundreds of blog posts and radio show podcasts. Also, as an ambassador for the EMSquared Hope Bar Project, I'm helping eliminate childhood malnutrition through the sustainable model of social entrepreneurship. Please visit JoryFisher.com/ShareHope to learn about this quickly growing global movement and how you too can get involved. Kim, your turn, would you please introduce yourself to our listeners.

Kim Crabill: Yes, I'll gladly. I listen to what you're doing, Jory, and I think about how impressive that is, but also for those listening to realize the humbleness in which you do all is exceptional. It really is without a doubt my honor to know you. For the audience, my name is Kim Crabill. I am the founder and president of Roses and Rainbows Ministries, Inc., which is the parent non-profit of Community COFFEE. It actually stands for Conversations Of Friends of Faith to Encourage and Equip. I have travelled nationally and continue to travel all with the same message and that is anything that has happened in your past, God can not only heal but also use your past to have a voice and a purpose for those around you. I would love for anyone who would be interested to check out my website, it's www.RosesandRainbows.org. I would love for anyone to visit to find out more about what we do and join us in any way that they feel called.

Jory Fisher: Excellent. Thank you, Kim. That was lovely. So just a few words about how to listen to and participate in Heart & Soul for Women of Faith, which airs on Wednesday evenings at 8:30 PM Eastern on BlogTalkRadio. You can listen to any of our archived on-demand episodes, follow this show, and add Heart & Soul to your iTunes library by going to BlogTalkRadio.com/JoryFisher. We encourage you to share Heart & Soul with your friends and family using the social media icons on BlogTalkRadio and on JoryFisher.com, and to post your comments and questions for us on my Facebook page, Jory Hingson Fisher. Of course that's Facebook.com/JoryHingsonFisher.

Okay, Kim. I know what we're talking about today but would you please introduce this wonderful topic.

Kim Crabill: Absolutely. All of us have heard the importance of going out and sharing our faith and especially as leaders, how important it is to integrate our faith into whatever it is that we're doing. You hear so many times, "Preach the Gospel. Use words only if you have to." Jory, I think that we are in a generation where people are tired of listening to people talk. They really want to see our walk and with that in mind, this Scripture, Philippians 2:15 says, "As believers that we should shine among the world, that there should be something different us that people literally could look at us and see that there is something different."

So in the mindset of that, I have in our COFFEE groups, developed a four-week study on how to GLOW. What is it that makes us different? What makes us shine among the world that makes us authentic, that makes us real, that makes us approachable? So that is what I want to talk about today – how is it that we can continue working on ourselves as leaders, that inward slow growth that will be reflective of an outer glow that God talks to us about. So what do you think? Are you excited about that title?

Jory Fisher: Well, I'm thinking beautifully said and I'm thinking, of course when people find out what you mean by glow, they will understand what I'm saying better, but I'm thinking we need to glow to grow and we need to grow to glow.

Kim Crabill: That's exactly right and then we need to ask, what does GLOW entail?

Jory Fisher: Yes.

Kim Crabill: Our ministry is basically with women. I do speak to men's organizations but 99% of the time, I'm with women. So my entire approach of teaching the Bible is to make it relevant, to make it real to bring it into our center so that it matters. So one of the ways that I'm doing that with the GLOW Series is I'm thinking about how we as women apply makeup. We put on this outer coating to look nice, which is a wonderful thing that we do but really, our true beauty will come from the inside. It's that glow we have. So I ask myself, how do we shine? What is the GLOW? I found, I discovered the answer like we do with most everything in the Bible, Ecclesiastes 8:1 says, "Wisdom makes the face to shine."

So what I have been doing as you very well know, Jory, is taking four principles about how to grow this inner glow so that we can combine two things that are so important to us and not really take up any more time. You know we're so busy that sometimes we don't have time to do the things that really are most important. So I'm trying to benefit women by saying as you put on your makeup, let's work on the inner side of ourselves as well. So I've been integrating the two and I think it's going to work really well.

GLOW is that inner wisdom that we accumulate as we study God's word. If you're ready, we'll go right into what GLOW means. Audience, are you ready? Are you ready, Jory?

Jory Fisher: They are sitting at the edge of their seats just like me, except I cheated a little bit because I have attended your session. So I know what GLOW stands for, but that's okay. I'm still excited.

Kim Crabill: Well, along with the shine, I think that another thing that I wanted to share with the audience before we get into it is a Scripture, I'm trying to think of where it is exactly, but it talks about how we are radiant from the inside out and it's in that radiance, I know, it's Psalms 34:5. It says, "We can be radiant and as we are radiant, our faces will never be covered in shame." That is our GLOW is to be able to release all the things that God has already released us from but for us personally to give that over to God so that we truly can GLOW. We're told not to put our light under a bushel. Well, so many times we put our face behind shame and guilt and regret.

GLOW stands for this. The first thing that you do before you begin to GLOW is you must have a desire and I think that in the world that we're in today, we're all desiring something that's real, something that matters, something that's going to ease the worry. The only way to do that is to get wisdom, God's wisdom. How do we do that? How do we get God's wisdom to GLOW? G

- Gaze upward. You know the most important thing that we can remember about glowing or about wisdom is to understand that the true wisdom comes from God. That's the only place that we're truly going to get the wisdom that is going to bring us the peace and the comfort and the wisdom that we need, that we're longing for to get us through the darkest times in our lives, in our world, and even just normal times of raising children, marriages, starting new careers, whatever it is that we are looking for answers to is we really need to gaze into God's word. Gaze into an upward mode of finding out what He would have us to do. Any comments on that before I move on, Jory?

Jory Fisher: Well, as a matter of fact, the visual keeps coming up to me, gazing upward and getting God's wisdom. That's exactly what Moses was doing when he went up to the mountaintop to get the 10 Commandments, which is a heck of a lot of wisdom, and then think about what happened to him. His face was so radiant that he had to cover it, right? When he was down to the people (because he was coming away when he wasn't with God) then his face was losing that radiance, but when he was with God, it was all supremely radiant. So that's a little visual that popped into my brain here.

Kim Crabill: Wow, and that is so true and to think that, it's when we look, it's almost like when King Jehoshaphat said, "When I don't know what to do, I just gaze at you, Lord." It's the same thing with us. The answer is always going to be found in Him and in Him alone. What a beautiful visual, Jory. That's beautiful. Thank you.

The L, so we have Gaze upward. So we're studying, we're learning God's word. We're figuring out what He says. We're learning His principles, His precept, His truth. L is to Look inward, to take those things that we have learned about God and to look into ourselves and see how much of that we're seeing in our self. How much of that are we growing? How are we advancing but then also where are we miss-stepping? Where are we out of line just a little bit? What is our next best step to get in line with Him? There's always something. There's always a new step and I say step because Proverbs 16:9 says, "He directs our steps."

Steps are manageable. If you tell me to change my life, I'm like, "Oh my gosh I'm just overwhelmed." But if you tell me one step, what one step you can do, which is really how God works with us, then I think I can do that. It's important for our listeners to understand that God doesn't call us to totally revamp our life. He simply asks, "What's the next best thing that you can do to make yourself more like me?" This is such a powerful truth because it is His truth that sets us free.

I think about the principle of Matthew 7:5 where we're told not to be hypocritical. Not to look at the log in other people's eyes when we have a plank on ours. It's a calling to making it personal. It's a calling to look at the woman in my mirror or the man in his mirror or you in yours. It's a calling to that relationship that we have, to look inward, and really concentrate on our self. So that's the L. So we Gaze upward, we Look inward, and then O, we Obey outwardly. John 14:5 says, "If you love me, you will obey my commands. We long to obey His commands. Our faith requires action and so to obey outwardly is sometimes very difficult but it's so worth it. Jory, what is a good example of obeying outwardly that would seem uncomfortable to maybe a listener right now?"

Jory Fisher: Well, perhaps a calling to ministry. I mean, somebody might be successful in business and there is something a call to attend seminary. Of course after a strong discernment process to make sure that it wasn't something they just made up but rather a true Divine calling. That would certainly be obeying outwardly. You're talking action.

Kim Crabill: Yes, right. When you were thinking about that, I don't know why but I thought of maybe a mom who is feeling like she needs to quit work to raise her children.

Jory Fisher: Right.

Kim Crabill: They are just thinking, "Oh my gosh. How can I do this?" But it's amazing how, and I'm not saying every mom should work or not work. I'm so thankful for so many of the godly people who are in our workforces. I'm very thankful but for those who are being called to that abrupt change to take that step could be really huge. It's like you said, you pray and make sure that it's really the Lord and then He blesses that obedience, whatever it is. It may be something as simple as God saying, "I want you to change your countenance. I want you to start smiling more." That's an outward obedience, so that is something small but it's amazing how when I'm down, worried or frustrated and walk into a grocery store, how simply seeing someone smiling can comfort me. So, just smiling can be a real calling on our lives.

Jory Fisher: Absolutely.

Kim Crabill: So we have Gaze upward, Look inward, Obey outwardly, and as we obey, the W is Walk humbly. It comes from Micah 6:8 when he asked, "God, what is it that you require of me?" and the first thing our Heavenly Father said was walk humbly. That's important for us to realize that a humble life is so much more acceptable to our friends and our communities and our churches. There is just something that speaks volumes about truly glowing. Don't you agree?

Jory Fisher: Oh, absolutely and I think that the opposite can be so repellant. I mean, who really likes to be around somebody who is boastful for example?

Kim Crabill: Exactly. Absolutely. And prideful, self-righteousness, or even someone who is, with all good intention who may be spouting Scriptures all the time. Scriptures are great and we are to use them, but I don't recall Jesus beating people with The Word. He knew how to use the Word and He knew how to love people and meet people where they were. He went to the weddings and He danced with them and He talked to them. He went in and had dinner with them. So He knew how to do that and He shows us and sometimes it's just walking with people side by side and understanding their need just for a friend.

So that is the GLOW Process that we are going through at our COFFEE and it's all about how to gain that wisdom, how to align our life with God's words and how to really be able to allow God to shine through us in a way that benefits us as well as it benefits others. I have a few things here about the life that wisdom produces in us if you would like to talk about that.

Jory Fisher: Yes, I was going to say let's talk about manifestation but before we do that, I'm sure this could be argued upside down and sideways but it sure seems to me that the way you've put this together and the word GLOW, the acronym GLOW, it's really chronological. I mean, talk about steps, just like the first step is getting God's wisdom. The second step is looking inwards, etc. It's really cool it turned out that way.

Kim Crabill: Well, it is and I love to be alone in quiet time with God and try to listen to Him speaking to me. I think that the practical application of God's word is what hooks us. If you're just reading Scriptures from the Old Testament or the New Testament, to me and I may not know how to apply it to my life. If that's the case, I'm just not that interested and I'm sorry. That's just the way I was for so many years. But if you start telling me how it's going to bring significance into my life, meaning to my life, purpose in my life, then my ears begin to perk up. I believe that that's the difference and that's a huge calling in my life and I know on yours as well, is to just make that practical application.

That's why we do the COFFEES as you all know to really allow and create these places where it's okay to talk about the things that you understand and those things that you're struggling with, to understand that we're all in that growth process, to GLOW. I hope that our listeners are loving this because it's just the raw application of how to make your Bible more than just a book that sits on a shelf. When we open this Bible, it opens life to us, wisdom to us, guidance to us. It really is life's handbook.

Jory Fisher: It really is.

Kim Crabill: It really is and I think that for all of us, for anyone listening and thinking, "Wow, I didn't understand that." It is truth and I will encourage you to get a Bible reading guide. You know the Gideon Bibles are written, they just have it just right when they put on the front side cover, "If you're feeling distressed, look at this passage. If you're feeling this, go to this passage." Grab something like that guide and begin to make that Scripture come alive in your life.

Jory Fisher: Yes. It was Anne Graham Lotz that I first read her comment about, one of the ways that she prays is before she starts reading the Bible, she asks God to show her answers to questions that have been roaming around in her head through her Scripture reading that morning. Of course she said it more eloquently in her devotional but that was just the gist of it. I thought, "Wow, that's really cool." Before I picked up the Bible, I don't think I've ever said, "Okay God," gee that sounds like I'm making a deal with God. I never said, "Dear Lord, as I read today, please show me the answers to my questions that I'm seeking or please speak to me through your word,” but just making a simple request that God, through the Holy Spirit, quicken our understanding that wisdom that we can obtain through the Bible is a really neat thing to do.

Kim Crabill: Yes, absolutely and I love the practical application that we are doing with make-up application. Step one was to cleanse. We’re talking about the first step in make-up or in our growth with God is to cleanse our self daily. There’s a beautiful picture of Jesus washing the disciple’s feet. He knew that the disciples were His. They had been cleansed. They had been made holy through Him and we are as well once we accept Christ. But that foot washing was an example of a daily washing, cleansing that we need as we walk through this world and to understand that we are human. For those who are listening right now, as you know, we can feel so guilty because we may lose our temper or something else that brings guilt, shame, and regret that we can wear that like it’s some type of badge and God is saying, “No, that is what’s keeping you from me. That’s the barrier.”

So that daily cleansing of putting our self and as we began to wash off that make-up at night to go through Psalms 51 and ask God, “Cleanse me oh, Lord, from however an anger spout that I have or not doing something that I wanted to do,” and let the shame and the regret and the guilt just wash down that drain just like our make-up does and be done with it and get up the next morning refreshed and ready to go again. We don’t need to wear guilt and shame and regret. Christ said that we didn’t have to do that so we just need to cleanse up daily and move on because when we do, that’s being wise.

Wisdom brings the fourth thing that I’d like to do before we end here is when we desire wisdom, we’re growing in His word, which literally just means putting His word within us so that it can become alive in us. The first thing the Bible tells us about the blessing of wisdom is actually a blessing. Proverbs 3:13 says we will become a blessing. God will bless us with what you’re just saying that Ann Graham Lotz had said. We ask, “God bless us with what you’re really trying to say,” and He does. He does. Now this number two probably might be my favorite...

Jory Fisher: Okay.

Kim Crabill: ...Because as women, we tend, and this maybe men as well but I can speak because as a woman, but we have a hard time being okay with our self. We can work our self, work our self, work our self, and get to the end of the day and we think about that one little thing we could have done better. One little thing that we could have polished a little bit....

Jory Fisher: Ah, that's exhausting.

Kim Crabill: It is, isn't it? But God tells us as we get wisdom, we gain contentment that we will love our life. Proverbs 19:8 that wisdom will bring a contentment to where we will love our life. Now that's just precious to me, you know, being a pleaser that I was for so many years, to think that it's okay, it's okay for me to be okay with me. That's a blessing.

Jory Fisher: There is a quote right there, "It's okay to be okay with me." I like it.

Kim Crabill: Yes. It is. In 1 Timothy says in 6:6, Godly contentment is a great gift. It's a gift from God that we can be okay with where we are. We're always growing. We're not self-satisfied. We're content with where we are today. Doesn't it just make you feel warm all over? I know there are people in our audience right now, Jory, that are fighting this losing battle of time to be everything to everybody and always try to prove that they are okay, prove that they are worthy, prove that they are significant. God says you are worthy. You are significant. That is the wisdom that I want you to have and I want you to understand it. You're okay. You're okay right where you are and I just want to share that word everywhere I go. He made us okay.

Jory Fisher: He did and Kim, I moved over my keyboard just half of an inch so I could see fully a Post-It note that is written in the handwriting of one of my former coaches from years ago. He wrote it specifically for me so I must have been showing some hesitation in this area. It says, "Jory, it's okay to shine."

Kim Crabill: Ohh.

Jory Fisher: Isn't that cool? It was just so neat that I just have it right here, right here. I have to remind myself once in a while.

Kim Crabill: Yes because you were made to shine. Think about that, you were made to shine. Philippians 2:15, "You're to shine among the world like stars."

Jory Fisher: Yes.

Kim Crabill: That's pretty cool. That's awesome that you held on to that.

Jory Fisher: It's right here looking at me.

Kim Crabill: This is so great. So as we gain wisdom, we are blessed. We learn contentment and God gives us, according to James 3:17, peace, which is like contentment but peace is a little different because peace is forward thinking, peace tells us that no matter what happens tomorrow, God has it under control. I think that that's something that we're all yearning for as we listen to the nightly news and everything that is going on.

Jory Fisher: Oh yes.

Kim Crabill: Yes, to understand. Fourthly, Proverbs 3:18, God tells us that through wisdom that we will be life giving. We will be speaking life to people. So what does that mean? Are dead people walking around us? They are spiritually and our words will bring life.

Jory Fisher: Mm-hmm.

Kim Crabill: It's the most beautiful thing in the world and that's what he's talking about that as we accumulate this wisdom, there is a very slow and steady growth within us. What is it, there's a Scripture, "Guard your heart for out of it flows everything that matters." As we guard our heart with wisdom, then it just naturally begins to flow out and we truly can begin to speak life to those around us. That's a pretty awesome responsibility and opportunity that God has given us. So that makes us matter everywhere we go. It gives us significance everywhere we go.

Jory Fisher: Mm-hmm. That's' great. So what would you say, so we have the cleansing, what would you say this putting on the primer or the foundation would be?

Kim Crabill: Well, that's what we'll be talking about.

Jory Fisher: Moving into?

Kim Crabill: Yes but the primer is - picture this, picture dough, raw dough, and black sunflower seeds. Take a roller, a dough roller, and roll over that. You see how those seeds have just pressed themselves down into that dough?

Jory Fisher: Yes, pretty gross.

Kim Crabill: Yes, it's pretty gross. Okay with God, those seeds are like little missteps, like little sins in our life. They are things that God wants to correct in us. Mark 7 has a listing of all those things. It goes to greed, to pride, to gossip, to adultery, so you begin to list all these things that we can say, "Oh my gosh, these are things that God is holding against us." No, no, no. These are things God wants to clean within us. "He's not a got-you God. He's a grace filled God." So He lists those things not for us to feel guilty but it's His way of saying, "Come to me. Let's clean this up."

So we see embedded in our heart these black seeds as pictured in the dough. So imagine as we bring that heart, that dough to God and ask Him to cleanse us, and we so those things begin to pop out. The cleansing is an inside job in our hearts. Okay, we see these holes in the dough, right? Now if that's make-up, then we put on primer, and a primer fills in those little holes and it makes it smooth.

Jory Fisher: Okay. I never really thought about that but that's cool.

Kim Crabill: Well, I know. See, God's primer, it doesn't go on the outside to fill it in. God's primer works from the inside out and it's like the Holy Spirit saying, "See that hole is where I lost my cool, I might need a little bit more patience. So we ask God, "God, prime me with patience and from the inside, that little hole begins to fill with the Holy Spirit, giving us His patience, gentleness, and guidance.

Jory Fisher: Oh yes.

Kim Crabill: Do you think our audience understands what I'm saying?

Jory Fisher: Absolutely, anybody who has ever cleansed their face and put on primer to get ready for the foundation. Absolutely.

Kim Crabill: Yes.

Jory Fisher: Well, good. Very good.

Kim Crabill: Isn't that a beautiful picture?

Jory Fisher: It is. Well, I guess people will they need to email you to find out what the foundation part of it is or are you going to just tell us a little bit right now?

Kim Crabill: Well you know what, why don't we just them email me or they can even get this GLOW Study and do it with a friend or two. Wouldn't that be fun?

Jory Fisher: that would be great. How do they get it?

Kim Crabill: Yes. They just contact me. Go online at www.RosesandRainbows.org. There's a contact there or you can just contact me at KimCrabill@gmail.com, C-R-A-B-I-L-L. I would love to share this with them. We actually have a school that is going to implement this program with their young teenage daughters as they teach them their make-up application!

Jory Fisher: Oh my gosh, that's great.

Kim Crabill: Yes. I know. I'm excited. I'm excited because it's teaching the spiritual principle as we're learning the physical and I think that's exciting, to me it is.

Jory Fisher: Well, we could put in half the amount of time unto our spiritual development that we do into making our self look presentable. Oh my gosh, we are spiritual giants.

Kim Crabill: And I am going to be posing that question to a group this Wednesday. It is true. That is true. You hit it right there, Jory.

Jory Fisher: Well, I think about that myself every day. It's like, okay, I'm spending this much time in front of the mirror. How much time am I going to sit down? I usually have my dogs around me. We call it our special little quiet time. How much time am I going to sit doing my quiet time? I hope it's more than the amount of time I spend in front of the mirror.

Kim Crabill: Well, I know with you, it is but how often it is for those moms who are chasing their kids or can intertwine the two is what I hope will help them understand that when you're putting on that make-up or cleansing your face, there is a spiritual side that can help you grow in God's wisdom. I want to share that. I think that's important and you know what, if we have more time, which hopefully we do, we can spend some more quiet time with God but that would be enough right there to begin glowing as we grow.

Jory Fisher: Absolutely and so as soon as we leave the house and somebody cuts in front of us in traffic, we've at least had a little bit of preparation, right Kim, to deal with it in a good way.

Kim Crabill: Let me tell you, it really makes a difference. I was going to rush last week and I was running out to do some things, and I did not put on my make-up nor did I have a quiet time, and this car cut me off and I felt myself, I thought, "Oh no, world, watch out. I have not had my GLOW time this morning."

Jory Fisher: Well it's too bad. You text me, okay? So I can make sure I don't get anywhere near you.

Kim Crabill: Oh well, I've decided I'm not going to do that again. It's not good for me or the world.

Jory Fisher: Or the world, exactly. Well, good. Kim, would you please pray for our listeners? We need to start drawing to a close here.

Kim Crabill: Absolutely I will. I'll remind our listeners of Philippians 2:15 where God tells us that we can shine like the stars. As we do that we will be less likely to grumble and complain as we walk through this world and listeners, I just want you to know as we begin to pray that the world may seem dark and the world may seem scary, but God says it's in that time. He said it's in a warped and crooked and perverse dark generation that we can shine among the world. So let's pray.

Dear Father, we just thank you for your word, your promise that in this world that may seem so dark around us that we are the hope, we are the guidance, and we are the wisdom, and that Lord without even using words that we can glow and shine your hope and your love. Lord, help each of us to be that instrument where we allow you to shine through us so that all can find that hope and to live then as their own star. We thank you so much for this time. God bless each of the listeners today. Bless them with your wisdom, your love, your knowledge. Bless Jory and all that she is doing. In Jesus's Holy Name we all pray, amen.

Jory Fisher: Amen and amen. Thank you, Kim, and thank you everybody for listening to Heart & Soul for Women of Faith. This is Jory Fisher, encouraging you to create optimal health for your life, ministry, and business so you can fulfill your purpose with joy and grace, and glorify God through success. So let's hope that everybody remembers this message as we put on our make-up from here on out. Thank you, Kim. Any last words for our listeners?

Kim Crabill: I just hope that they take hope from it, understanding how valuable they are and how much they matter. So just grab your Bible and allow God to fill you up. If anyone has any questions or any concerns, please contact me at KimCrabill@gmail.com, K-I-M-C-R-A-B-I-L-L. I know, Jory, along with you, we will be more than happy to answer any questions from anything that was said today.

Jory Fisher: Yes absolutely. So I'm Jory@JoryFisher.com, J-O-R-Y, and if you want to hear more of that beautiful music you just heard, just go to DavidNevue.com, N-E-V-U-E. DavidNevue.com. Well, thank you, Kim, and thank you everyone. Until we meet again. May the Lord bless you and keep you and be gracious unto you. May the Lord grant you prosperity and peace. Bye, everybody. Bye, Kim.

Kim Crabill: Bye. God bless everybody.
