

Review of Chakras 1 through 11 And the Color Codes That Can Be Used

First Chakra

The first chakra is considered the base chakra. It is located at the base of your spine in the center of the perineum. It contains patterns of the genetic lineage, beliefs around survival and worthiness. It is the home of the 3rd-dimensional mental body. The first chakra's energy grounds you into the Earth energy.

When you apply the red color code, the energies of this code bring a calm, coherent flow of the energies of the chakra. The red code is expansive and is far reaching. Its vibration is a simple vibration that is compatible with the body in a 3rd, 4th-dimensional state.

The yellow color code, has energetic codes from the Higher Mind and Christed Mind. This begins to alter the mental body significantly. The yellow codes are enhanced by the Undifferentiated Light of Source. This changes the vibration and frequency range of the mental body that resides in the first chakra. The first chakra relates to the physical body experience and the consciousness of the body and consciousness of the mental body. The color code energies alter the dominance of the ego that is based in fear and survival, as well as unworthiness.

When the red and yellow color codes are amplified by the infusion of Undifferentiated Light, the movement of the color codes overtakes the energy of the chakra. Any energetic anomalies that are of a denser configuration are replaced. The amplified color codes bond with what is present in the chakra. The energies of the color codes aerate the molecules and transform the energetic patterns of the chakra into higher vibrations of light. This alters the way in which the mental body operates in regards to thought processes that relate to the physical body, the ego, and physical experience. New thoughts are based in calmness, wellbeing, abundance, and self-love and value.

Infuse the first chakra with the green codes of Love. When you do this you change the effects of the imprints of fear and survival as well as create imprints of self-love and value.

Second Chakra

The second chakra is located in the sacral area of the body. This chakra relates to your ability to create. It is also the home of the 3rd dimensional Emotional Body.

When you apply the red color code, and the yellow color code that has been amplified by Undifferentiated Light, you facilitate the upgrade of the energies present in this chakra. In the presence of these amplification codes a brilliant orange color begins to be present. This orange color vibration stimulates the emotional body to become open and receptive.

Next, apply the blue color coding. This color code energy begins to bond with the energy of the emotions and uplifts the emotions into a higher vibration.

When amplified by Undifferentiated Light, the blue color code's effectiveness enhances the vibration of this coding and extends it throughout the emotional body. The emotions that are felt in relation to the bodily experience are changed. The emotions that are used are no longer based in fear, judgment, and unworthiness. You begin to create more coherently in love. You value your experience in life. You can consciously choose mid-range emotions, connect them to your thoughts that are now from your higher mind. This alone alters your life experience significantly.

Use of the green coding is a necessity in the alteration of the second chakra. The Element of love alters the patterning of self-judgment and ego dominance. These two disruptive patterns cannot exist in the presence of self-love and appreciation.

Third Chakra

The third chakra resides in your solar plexus. It is your personal power center. Now that there is more energy flowing up the system from the first two chakras, more energy is available to the third chakra. It reflects the energy that you created in the first two chakras and exemplifies it in your physical world.

The energy of the third chakra enables you to manifest in your life experience what you need and desire. To bring a greater power and coherency to the functioning of this chakra , add color codes.

First, red which calms the energy of your power center. It makes it more flexible, yet strong, with just the perfect force that is needed in each situation to manifest precisely. The yellow color codes bring in power that is drawn from the Higher Christed Mind so that your manifestations are always based on your true Divine Image. The power and force of this chakra is always tempered with Love. Bring in the blue color codes so that the emotions that are used to manifest with are of the mid to higher vibrational range.

Next, add the green color code. The green color code is configured in the Element of Love. Its vibration and frequency range is immense. When you amplify this code with Undifferentiated Light, it is able to function as it was intended in complete love and unity. It possesses great power and is always in perfect harmony with the Divine Christed Image.

When the amplified color codes permeate the energy of the third chakra, the power to manifest a calm, harmonious life experience becomes very real. You will rarely be in a reactive state but are calm, powerful and conscious in your creations.

Fourth Chakra

The fourth chakra is the Heart Chakra. This chakra has two levels to it. One that relates to your physical body consciousness and the other to your soul consciousness. The Sacred Heart bridges these two sections and brings unity consciousness to both the body and the soul experience.

The first level of the heart chakra relates to body consciousness. It was greatly affected by the fall of consciousness and was limited in its function and power because of an inability to maintain a more refined and coherent frequency of the Love Element.

You have done much to change this by altering the first three chakras' energy so there is an adequate flow of light energy up the center column of the energy system. This brings coherence to the entire energy system.

All of the color codes are anchored in the Sacred Heart so when you use the various color codes in the lower portion of the heart chakra you alter the vibration of this portion and bring it into a more coherent function that resonates with the Sacred Heart.

The red color code brings a harmonious calmness and coherence into the heart.

The yellow color code comes from the Christed Mind. This code creates thoughts of confidence, capable and value into the mental body. The thoughts that you think provide the basis for your life experience. The yellow color code helps you to create thoughts consciously.

The blue color code brings a higher vibration and bonds with the emotions that bond with thought. You are able to bring the emotions of kindness, self-compassion, and confidence into your heart. This blue code dismantles and eliminates feelings of victimization, harshness in relation to self. It keeps at bay the fear of change.

The green color code which is configured in the Element of Love is used in this application to revive awareness of self-love and self-acceptance. The presence of the blue color code helps you to see your value. It enhances your ability to recover a consciousness of the body. The functioning of the heart at a physical level is key to the health and wellbeing of the body. So too, the functioning of the Sacred Heart is key to the functioning of consciousness of the body possessing a soul that leads the body into recognizing itself as a vehicle of the power of love energy. This physical vehicle is the soul's vehicle to experience creating individual expressions in a form that are drawn from the infinite soul/spirit collective expression.

When these codes are installed into the energy of the lower heart energy which pertains to body consciousness and experience, they elevate and amplify the energies bringing them into a coherent flow. The energetic color codes connect into the Sacred Heart where more of a refined consciousness of Soul/Spirit resides. They unify the functioning of the entire first four chakras.

Fifth Chakra

The fifth chakra is the throat chakra. It is an important energy center of the chakra system. This is the center, when functioning coherently, allows you to speak your truth, to verbalize thoughts, and set boundaries. It is also the energetic center where you begin to merge the Will of Source and your personal will.

This chakra often has many limitations to its ability to energetically flow freely. So it is important to work with it and use the color codes to help you facilitate a full functioning of this important chakra.

The Red color code brings calmness in this center. When the energies of the throat chakra are in a state of calm, it is more coherent and begins to function more harmoniously. When the throat chakra is in a calm and coherent state it allows your Higher Self to speak through its channels in communication. The ego does not usurp its presence.

The Yellow Coding brings in the influence of your Christ mind and you begin to surrender into that influence by merging your personal will to the Will of Source. Because you have worked with the first four chakras, there is a flow of energy from both levels of the Heart Chakra. You are more confident in yourself and the ego does not have to use your voice to support an agenda based on survival.

When you add the blue color codes, you add a higher vibration to the energies of the throat chakra through your emotional body. This opens the throat chakra to a greater level and your ability to speak when you want to express yourself comes more easily.

The green codes are important to add. The green adds a refinement level to this chakra. It influences with the Element of Love so you can express yourself easily and consistently without reaction to any situation. You are able to be more accepting of yourself and less ego motivated to speak.

Sixth Chakra

The sixth chakra is your third eye. Your third eye energy supports your ability to be telepathic. It is concerned with inner vision, intuition, and wisdom from your soul/spirit level. The third eye is connected to the pineal gland. It affects the neurology of the body and the function of the brain. This chakra has a limited expression when it is either closed or obstructed by a 3rd-dimensional influence.

When you add the red color code, these codes open the obstructed energies and creates a calm flow to them. These color codes open the pathway for you to create a more coherent functioning of this chakra as well as an openness of the chakra that was no there previously.

The yellow codes infuse it with Christed mind energy. The yellow codes are very important energies to impregnate into this chakra. Your Christed Mind energy influences the energies of this chakra and facilitates a significant opening of it. You can then start to remember yourself from a vaster perspective. You realize that you are not just your physical body. The neurology of your physical body is also impacted by the opening of this center. You begin to process more complex thought that emanates from your soul/spirit. You start to develop your skills of telepathy and intuition.

The blue codes help you to use your emotions at that refined level so that you trust what you know and what you intuit.

The green codes flood this center with the Element of love. The element of Love helps you create and manifest from the wisdom of your soul/spirit. You create with self- confidence.

Seventh Chakra

The seventh chakra sits at the very top of the head. Babies have a soft spot in this area. This chakra center draws into it Source Light and your Divine Imaging. The seventh chakra is the pathway to bring a constant flow of light into the body without limit. It is an immense receiver of Source energy. The crown chakra also has an impact on the nervous system of the body. When this center is fully open and functioning, it becomes the center where the descension of soul/spirit enters the physical body when it is prepared to receive these immense and refined energies.

The seventh chakra function is severely limited by the 3rd and 4th-dimensional state of being. In most humans the closing of this center begins at the onset of puberty.

The infusion of color codes is very important to the full functioning of this center. The red brings a calm and harmonious energy that provides an environment for receiving the more refined energies that are now ready to come into the body. The yellow codes provide an energetic influence of creative thought that comes from the Higher Mind and also the Christed Mind. Because the neurology has been prepared, this center can bring into your physical thought system of your Mental body and process the complexities of thought efficiently. The yellow codes also facilitate your ability to radiate this Christ energy now as well as receive it.

The blue coding brings a refined expression of your emotions. The emotions of joy and bliss now have a place to dwell in the body.

The green codes add the Element of pure Love energy which contributes a stabilization function to this valuable seventh chakra. This enables you to radiate love and light as well as receive it continually.

Eighth Chakra

The eighth chakra is the home of universal mind as it pertains to the worlds of form. It is located above the 7th chakra. The eighth chakra is the first spiritual chakra and is the doorway between your soul and your personal physical experience. The eighth chakra brings the energy of Universal Mind into a relationship with the physical personal individual experience in the world of form. Through the influence of these transforming energies humans recover their awareness of themselves as spiritual beings having a physical experience.

There is no need to infuse the eighth chakra with color codes as this chakra and the remaining chakras already contain all colors and Light.

Ninth Chakra

The ninth chakra's energy facilitates the conscious interface with the Lords of Light, Elohim, Archangels and Ascended Masters. This chakra facilitates conscious communication from this sector of the Creative Realms. This communication interfaces with the Sacred Heart consciousness and begins to seat itself in the physical body which further activates the Lightbody. Direct communication begins to take place through the Lightbody and becomes more available as more of the Lightbody is activated and the DNA strands are also activated.

Tenth Chakra

The tenth chakra relates to a portion of the vast Source Mind. It relates to your non-physical spirit. When the 10th chakra is fully functioning the Christed Mind is fully engaged and the Christed Oversoul begins the descension into the physical experience. The Christed Divine Image begins to take up residence within the physical body which is in full transition from the 3rd dimension to a fully functioning 5th-dimensional body.

11th Chakra

The 11th chakra holds the complete Undifferentiated Love and Light of Source. It is the light from which you were created. This light was held in the eleventh chakra until your third dimensional body could become conscious and make use of the refined light of the Source of your being.

The Undifferentiated Light begins to move and descend into the triadic system transforming it further into a usable energetic vehicle to create a direct ascension of the physical body. The energetic triadic vehicle is instrumental in the creative process of your spirit in form creating in form.

12th, 13th, and 14th Chakras

These three chakras are other levels of Source Mind. You are aware of the existence of these chakras. The energetics are present and active and functioning as a triad. This is a level of completion of the return to the 12th-dimensional state of consciousness. It is instrumental in creating the Adam Kadmon Body.
