

Note: As usual, questions may be summarized and most hello's and thank you's, etc., are omitted. Answers are generally word for word.

1. Sharka: I have two questions. Could you please clarify if these axiatonal lines of communication are also used in channeling (like what Joan is doing) and also with the transmitting of the holograms?

Answer: Yes. And all these communications come into your conscious awareness, into your body, through various channels. Some of you will use a clairaudient channel, some clairsentience channel, some clairvoyancy. It is unique unto the individual how these transmissions are brought into your physical awareness.

2. Sharka: Einstein talked about the fabric of the universe and how he defined gravity. I believe gravity was physical. You told us the axiatonal lines are not physical. Will you explain the relationship between these axiatonal lines and the fabric of the universe.

Answer: Well that's quite a large topic, Dear One! And it take you a little off subject, because your rational mind really gets involved here.

But I will say this -- that there are within the energetic system of all planets within the galaxy, there are gravitational flux lines. And these flux lines operate in such a way that they allow various transmissions to come into various planetary systems through the channels that we have just talked about. So, in some ways, gravity does play a part in this. But, these axiatonal lines are not dependent upon gravity to connect various star systems or various galactic states, various universes. They are unlimited in their extensions. The only limitation that they have is the limitation of your state of consciousness. I think we will leave it at that, because it will get us off topic here.

[3:37] 3. Terry: You said that in the 3rd dimension there was a disconnect of the meridians and the axiatonal lines in the body. Does acupuncture work or not? Does acupuncture work by stimulating the spin points?

Answer: Yes, in the 3rd dimension we said that the communication is disrupted, the communication that comes through these axiatonal lines. So, you do not have the consciousness to receive the communication through these lines. So they really aren't totally disconnected; they are just not viable lines of communication in a 3rd dimensional state of consciousness.

Now, as far as acupuncture is concerned, acupuncture stimulates the meridian spin points to help in the communication of various channels in the body and assist the body to begin the healing process. In a 3rd dimension, the consciousness is not available to receive that communication. So, it's done at an unconscious level. And there is limitation to the effectiveness in some individuals of the acupuncture treatment. But it does have benefit to anyone who participates in that type of healing process.

As your consciousness grows and you enter into the 4th dimension and then into the 5th Dimension, this communication is a more viable communication channel. And the effectiveness of the activation of the meridian spin points becomes greatly effective and more instantaneous, rather than in the 3rd dimension, there is a time lag in your ability to notice any change in the body. As you are entering into 5th Dimension and operate in a more 5th Dimensional state of consciousness or multi-dimensional state of consciousness, the results seem to be more immediate, because your consciousness is very aware.

[6:55] 4. Joe: You mentioned that the 8th chakra is in the Sacred Heart. What is in the Medulla?

Answer: The OverSoul begins to over-light the Medulla Oblongata, so that there is more Light that emanates throughout that 2nd Triad, which is your creative center.

Joe: Is the 11th chakra in the body yet? If so, in a specific place? I'm thinking of our drawing in of the Undifferentiated Light into the body. Are there any of these other chakras that you would place a location on?

Answer: At the present time, the 11th chakra still remains above the body. Now, when we talk about the Undifferentiated Light, we have also said that because of this activation, the descent of the 8th chakra, the over-lighting of the OverSoul and the Presence and functioning of the OverSoul, you are able to maintain within your body Undifferentiated Light on a more consistent basis. So, as you draw it in, like you have always done, through the Crown into the Pineal center, it can be maintained at a much greater degree consistently, rather than dissipating. So this is the beauty of what happens when you have the Presence of the OverSoul and the descent of the 8th chakra into the body, where the Higher Mind/Universal Mind is functioning in conjunction with the consciousness of your Sacred Heart.

[9:33] 5. Joe: One of the things I believe is happening is that the OverSoul is starting to permeate the consciousness of the body, if you will, and replace the ego.

Answer: Correct. Can I make a correction here? It isn't replacing the ego. The ego is a necessary part of being in a body. It is transforming the ego to take its rightful place in the consciousness of the body.

Joe: The consciousness, though – the body is becoming the consciousness of the OverSoul and the ego consciousness is receding.

Answer: Correct. You are very accurate, yes.

[10:41] 6. Name not given: When you were teaching the Undifferentiated Light, you also said it came from the Godhead. [Answer: Correct]. Is there a higher configuration of that energy up there?

Answer: A higher configuration of Undifferentiated Light? No, Undifferentiated Light is Source Energy, creative energy before it is made usable. It is a massive creative energy that is undifferentiated.

[11:31] 7. Joanne: I'd like to clarify the feelings that I'm having, the experience of being the Undifferentiated Light, having the OverSoul in the body and being Undifferentiated Light. It feels that that Presence is now the receptor site, if you will, for the axiatonal lines. And that the axiatonal lines are now transmitting information into the whole body. We've become a full receptor site as Undifferentiated Light and the axiatonal lines are the pathways where that information is now coming into us. And also where information is disseminating out of us. It's not just a one-way transmission.

Answer: Well, you have said it very accurately. The only comment we would make is a further clarification of Undifferentiated Light. We have said this is pure creative Source Energy. Undifferentiated Light is creative Light before it is differentiated or used in a creative process. So, as Undifferentiated Light is drawn into the body through the Presence of the OverSoul, it then becomes a usable energy source to create with, to differentiate that Light source and create in form. You, as creators in a body, create form within form. You differentiate the pure Source creative Energy. So, that Undifferentiated Light is a very consistent Presence within the body to be made usable at any given moment, when you wish to create.

Joanne: And the fine tuning of that, because there's at least two aspects of me that are hearing it, is for me it feels more that the differentiation happens from the awareness of the creation, feeling[?] tones of that creation. And there's also information/energy that's feeding this process as well and that through that focus of attention, the desires, the feelings, all of that, it differentiates. It's not my mind differentiating, creating the whole plan – it's really an inward process of the dance and the harmonic play between all these aspects of me, [Answer: Correct], the mental-emotional, all of that. And that through that the unfoldment of the differentiation occurs.

Answer: Correct – through the thoughts and the emotions, the differentiated creation is manifested. And that flows through the consciousness of the Sacred Heart, where the Presence of the Universal Mind is now available and usable to create the thought.

Joanne: Is the OverSoul there, too?

Answer: Yes

Joanne: I just want to be very clear here that there's a distinction experientially here for me between a rational thought and the wholeness of thought or the interplay between the mental-emotional body and the Universal Mind and Heart. I guess I'm looking for a new definition of thought, because it applies to rational thought and other thought, so when I experience what we're talking about, I'm not experiencing it as rational thought, I'm experiencing it as a Knowing awareness [Answer: Correct] that comes through, that merges with the energetics of my Heart.

Answer: Correct. So, you know within you when you are using rational mind thought and when you are using your Higher Mind thought. You know it.

Joanne: One is the receptive feeling of awareness and the other is me trying to do an application. And they feel very different to me. One is mechanical and the other feels flowing. [Answer: Correct]

[17:50] 8. Mary: I want to follow up on Joanne's comments, because I'm noticing as people are talking tonight and you're answering questions, as I become receptive, I'm actually feeling something coming in. And I would like to anchor that myself, because it almost feels like a different directional spin. And my thoughts go very quiet. It's pretty cool. There seems to be a very different process happening that involves receiving.

Answer: Correct! You are very accurate.

When the Higher Mind is present and thoughts are generated through the interface of your OverSoul, that thought is very calm, quiet, and centered. There's no figuring it out. There's no frenetic energy. It's very precise, very quiet, and very calm -- very powerful in this state.

---

The Triad in closing: Beloveds, our time has come to an end. We thank you for ALL of your comments and your questions. Can you see how valuable this time together is? How the expansion of your consciousness is assisted by every experience that is shared, every comment that is made, and every question that is asked?

This is a Crucible, a creative Crucible, that you are a co-participant in.